MISSOURI HEADS MIGHTY ATTACK ON RED COAST

130 Miles of North Korea Battered by 37 Vessels; Port of Chongjin in Flames

TOKYO, Friday, Oct. 13 (AP)—The U. S. battleship Missouri led a naval force of ships Thursday in a searing attack on nearly 130 miles of North Korea's east coast—almost to the Siberian-Manchurian border.

The big iron and steel port of Chongjin was set aflame as the 16-inch guns of the Mighty Mo poured more than 800,000 pounds of hot shells into the city in less than an hour, the Navy said.

The fierce bombardment, reminiscent of those that devastated the coast of Japan late in World War II, might be the prelude to a United Nations landing, but this remained a matter of speculation.

American and British cruisers, American and Australian destroyers and American aircraft carriers worked over an area extending from Songjin "practically to the very edge of the Manchurian border," the Navy said today. It is 130 miles from Songjin to that border.

British carrier-based planes simultaneously struck the north Korean west coast 65 miles southwest of the Red capital of Pyongyang.

United Nations ground troops are advancing relentlessly on the North Korean capital of Pyongyang from the south and southeast against weakening Red resistance.

THE ATTACK on Chongjin, on the northeast coast, could be the softening-up process for an Allied landing, or it could be a diversion to draw attention from a landing elsewhere. It also could be merely a routine smash at targets of opportunity.

The Sept. 15 Allied landings at Inchon, on the west coast, which led to smashing of the Red invasion of South Korea, were preceded by similar strong naval combardment and a simultaneous diversion on the east coast.

Chongjin is an iron and steel port of 190,000 population, 49 air miles southwest of the Korean-Siberia border and 43 miles southeast of the Korean-Manchuria border at the closest points. It is linked by rail with the rest of North Korea and with Manchuria.

Carrier-based planes rocketed the city for two days before the attack from the sea opened Thursday.

The U. S. cruiser Helena led the sea strike with a quick shelling from close up, with her 8-inch guns. Then the ponderous Missouri began throwing in one-ton missiles from three of her nine 16-inch guns.

Pleased With Citadel's Progress

So far, so good is the verdict of Irvin W. Riegner, chairman of the advisory committee for the Salvation Army, as he inspects a main stairway of the Salvation Army's new citadel now under construction on the north side of King street, west of Hanover street. He made the inspection yesterday, when the kickoff date for the drive to raise $25,000 to help pay for the new building was announced. The date is Nov. 13.

$25,000 DRIVE BY 'ARMY' SET TO OPEN NOV. 13

Kickoff Rally Arranged For Start of Campaign To Raise Citadel Funds

Nov. 13 was set yesterday as the date for the kickoff of the drive to raise $25,000 to help pay for the new Salvation Army citadel building, which is now 40 percent completed.

O. C. Beacraft, co-chairman of the campaign committee, said that the advisory board, headed by Irvin W. Riegner, and other drive leaders hope to have raised the funds by Dec. 10.

Approximately 15 percent of the $25,000 will be devoted to the Salvation Army's Christmas fund, for needy families. The balance will be used for the citadel.

The Army already has raised approximately $55,000 toward the new headquarters, which is expected to cost a total of $105,000.

"The advisory board members and officers are hopeful that the building will be completed shortly after the first of the year, Beacraft asserted.

CAPT. COX, WHO announced the names of the drive's captains, said prompt completion of the new building is needed to "expand and meet adequately the needs we haven't been able to meet properly before."

As an example, he pointed out that the present small quarters lack even proper facilities for private conferences. "Nobody wants to air their troubles to the world," the captain declared.

"Completion of the new building will be the consumation of nine years' work," Capt. Cox said.

Beacraft said that George Lowe, Philadelphia, director of safety education for Atlantic Refining company, will be the principal speaker at the rally.

THE NEW BUILDING, on the north side of King street, between Hanover and York streets, is of brick, concrete and steel construction. Virtually all of the material needed for its completion already is on the ground, Capt. Cox said, explaining that material shortages are no threat.

The basement will have a kitchen, vocational facilities for young people, a band rehearsal room, a small-group activities room and Sunday school rooms.

The main floor will house the auditorium, administrative offices and Sunday school rooms. The third floor will be used for recreational purposes for children and adults.

County Planners Must Approve Housing Projects After Oct. 31

By EDWARD B. ROSENBERG
(Mercury Staff Writer)

All plans for housing projects in Pottstown, as well as everywhere else in the county, will have to be submitted to the Montgomery County Planning commission for approval after Oct. 31.

The commission is backed by State law in requiring all subdivision plans to be submitted.

Town council learned of the Oct. 31 deadline at its meeting Monday night.

At that time, it also received the detailed specifications of the planning commission, setting up standards and requirements for the land itself; streets and roads; blocks and lots; building lines, utility easements (the right to use land for a special purpose) and alleys; dedications and reservations for public land use, and the drawing up of the plans themselves.

The specifications are primarily for the engineering and utility phases of housing developments. The details of the home construction are covered by the borough building, fire and plumbing codes.

Horace Y. Seidel, chairman of the Pottstown Planning and Zoning commission, said last night that he had gone over the specifications but that he wanted to examine them more carefully before giving his opinion.

Seidel added that his group, council's committee to function with the Planning and Zoning commission, and Borough Solicitor C. Edmund Wells would meet Tuesday night to discuss the Planning commission's specifications and their possible effect on the borough.

THE COUNTY Planning commission was formed early this year. Beaver is the only other county in Pennsylvania to have taken advantage of a law of the 1937 Legislature to form such an organization.

That law, amended 10 years later, permits counties to set up the commissions and requires that municipalities submit subdivision development plans to them for final approval.

Montgomery county's nine-man commission works under the county commissioners. The director, the only full-time, salaried member, is David D. Longmaid, of Ardmore, an engineer who took his master's degree in planning at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Each of the nine men represents one area of the county. Paul Brooke, 635 High street, represents the Royersford area, while Raymond H. Piersol, 66 Cedar street, is in charge of Pottstown, West, Lower and Upper Pottsgrove and Limerick townships.

ORIGINALLY, the Planning commission set April 10 as the date after which all plans must be submitted. At the meeting of Aug. 22, they rescinded the earlier resolution and made Oct. 31 the new deadline.

Piersol explained that four specific problems led the county commissioners to set up the Planning commission.

One was the extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike into Montgomery county, with accompanying problems of homes and business developments in the King of Prussia terminus area.

The second was the clean-up of the Schuylkill river, a result of which has been that river communities, including Pottstown, have been ordered to build new sewer disposal plants.

Third was the possibility that the county might take over the old Schuylkill canal area for a recreation site, in the county section below Pottstown.

Finally, the forthcoming construction of a rolling mill by the U. S. Steel company in Bucks county is expected to bring a housing problem to the northeast corner of Montgomery county, in the Pennsburg-Red Hill- East Greenville area.

PIERSOL POINTED out that the local Planning and Zoning commission, with council, still will control borough zoning changes.

He noted further that large-scale housing plans are submitted to the borough Planning and Zoning commission and the borough engineer for approval.

If they clear those two offices, he said, clearance by the county planning group would be almost automatic, unless the plans were badly out of line with the specifications.

The planning group was set up primarily for rural areas, Piersol explained, where there is little or no control over subdivision development.

By requiring builders to submit their plans, the county can be sure that sanitation, transportation, recreation and other standards are met.

SOME PLANS already have been submitted from townships, he said, adding that as more plans come in, expansion of the commission will become necessary.

AUTO SMASHES INTO OIL TANKER

South Street Youth, 18, Receives Minor Injuries In West High Street Crash

An 18-year-old Pottstown youth was injured only slightly last night when his two-door sedan rammed the back of an Edward J. Sweeney and Sons oil tanker on West High street.

The youth, Albert Piazza, 218 South street, attempted to avoid the tanker by pulling out into the east-pound lane of traffic but was forced back by an on-coming truck.

Piazza said he was traveling west on High street in the second lane of traffic when he saw the tank truck, driven by Richard V. Sweeney, 74 Mt. Vernon street, in front of him. He attempted to cut to his left, but was unable to circle the truck.

Sweeney told police he had stopped to make a left turn off the road. He had his directional signals on, he added, when he felt the car strike the rear of his truck.

THE IMPACT wrecked the entire front end of Piazza's car and threw him against the windshield. It bent the rear bumper and chassis of the tanker, knocking off the valves.

Edward J. Sweeney, owner of the oil company, ran to Piazza's assistance and drove him to Memorial hospital for treatment of a small puncture over the bridge of his nose.

Meanwhile, oil from the broken valves spewed over the highway. A Good Will Fire company pumper, driven by John Smith, was dispatched by

Medical 'Miracle' Aids Recovery of Badly Hurt Child

By FRANK J. DOSTAL
(Mercury Staff Writer)

A little three-year-old boy, given up for lost by physicians twice, was home yesterday — thanks to a modern medical "miracle" and the prayers of everyone in his neighborhood.

The youngster, Ronald DiGiosia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel DiGiosia, 814 Vine street, Stowe, showed only a few marks of his ordeal—a small scar on his head, a missing patch of skin from his left leg, and some uncertainty in his walk.

But for 28 days of black, unseeing unconsciousness, he hovered steadily in the shadow of death.

Ronald was injured critically on June 28 when he was struck by a car driven by Roy E. Eagle, 415 East Vine street, Stowe, while he was playing in front of his home. He apparently darted in front of the car at the last possible moment, for Eagle never saw the youngster until after he had hit him.

SUFFERING FROM a fractured skull and with the skin ripped from the left side of his head, the youngster was taken to Memorial hospital and placed under the care of Dr. Caesar F. Sarni, Pottstown physician.

He was given only six hours to live.

The following day, Ronald was still clinging to life. Hospital authorities summoned Dr. Eugene Stitz, Philadelphia specialist, to examine him.

After noting the extent of his injuries, Dr. Stitz felt it was almost impossible for the boy to live 24 hours longer, giving him the possibility of 48 hours at the most.

Meanwhile, physicians struggled to keep him alive. Oxygen, plasma and two blood transfusions were administered in the effort to restore his body to normalcy.

THREE PRIVATE duty nurses, Ann Hakun and Helen Zissa, both of Pottstown, and Ann West, of Spring City, were engaged to give him constant care.

The 48-hour deadline passed and Ronald, although unconscious, continued to breathe.

As the effort to save her son went on, Mrs. DiGiosia remained

Seven Call Boxes Useless to Police

All seven police call boxes on the "back circuit" of the system north of High street are now useless, it was learned last night.

Patrolmen can ring the buzzer on the panel of the police desk at borough hall but conversation cannot be heard either way.

The cause of the blanket communications failure was not immediately determined. Borough Electrician William H. Price could not be reached for comment.

The only box on the back circuit used regularly by a foot patrolman is the one at Beech and Grant streets. Patrolmen on that beat now ring the buzzer to check in at headquarters.

But all the other boxes may be used by police in the three prowl cars. The call boxes are the only official means of communication with Plainclothesman Lewis M. Borgiet who uses the car without radio.

POLICE IN THE radio cars, however, frequently receive instructions to call headquarters by telephone for special assignments. If they get a call of this nature now, they must drive to a box on the "front circuit" to make the call.

The eight call boxes on the front circuit are reported in good condition. Three of those boxes on High street were included in the rewiring of all east High street fire alarm boxes, completed the past week.

The back circuit boxes are situated at East and Charlotte streets, Third and Hanover, Grant and Beech, Beech and York, Franklin and Beech, Oak and Spruce and Fourth and Johnson.

ON WEDNESDAY only the box at Oak and Spruce was reported out of action. The remainder were reported yesterday.

Meanwhile, the red police signal at High and Hanover streets came back to action. But the other two signal lights at High and Washington and at High and Keim remained unusable.

The police signal horn at High and Hanover streets also was dead last night. But Price was reported as saying it would be fixed today.

The lights and horn are signals for foot patrolmen and the operator of the radioless car to call headquarters on a call box.

Bechtelsville Marine Is Slightly Wounded By Bullet in Korea

Pfc. Floyd F. Fry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fry, of Bechtelsville, was wounded on Sept. 22 while fighting with U. S. forces in Korea.

An enemy bullet grazed the back of his neck, but did not inflict any serious injury. Just a few minutes before being hit, he narrowly escaped several other shots which missed a foot, leg and his side.

Pfc. Fry served for more than three years in the Marine corps during World War II, having been discharged in 1945 after being wounded in the South Pacific.

Prior to his re-enlistment in the Marines, in February, 1949, he was employed at the Boyertown Burial Casket company, where his father also works. He left the states during the early part of August of this year for duty in the Korean war.

The Bechtelsville man is the second Marine from the Pottstown area to have been reported this week as having been wounded. Earlier, Corp. Clyde M. Curran, a brother of Mrs. Elsie Marks, Pennsburg, was reported wounded in action in Korea.

Five Bands to March In Hallowe'en Parade

Five bands have promised to take part in the Oct. 31 Hallowe'en parade down High street, it was announced yesterday by Francis Donnon, Pottstown recreation director, and more are expected.

From Pottstown, the Senior and Junior High school bands and that of the St. Aloysius parochial school will march in the second annual Recreation commission parade. Two more bands will come from the North Coventry and West Potsgrove schools.

Co-operating with the Recreation commission are Pottstown civic and fraternal organizations, the Mercantile bureau and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Donnon announced that this year the participants will not have to register. "They just have to be there," he said.

THERE WILL BE five divisions—funniest, nationality, impersonation, prettiest, and most original—and two age classifications—10 years and under, and 11 years and older.

There also will be a special division, including anything on wheels, decorated appropriately for a Hallowe'en parade.

The Mercantile bureau has contributed $125 in gift certificates as prizes. These certificates will be redeemable in any member store.

There will be 10 first prizes of $5; 10 second prizes of $3; 10 third prizes of $2, and special division prizes of $15, $7.50 and $2.50.

MEMBERS OF THE Junior Chamber of Commerce will be the judges. Members of the Pottstown Optimist, Rotary, Kiwanis and American Business clubs will be marshals, while Lions club members will be at the York street end of the parade, to give away the 2000 pumpkin pies contributed by the Mrs. Smith's Pie company for the young marchers.

The parade will form on High street between Adams and Washington streets, with the floats in the special division lining up on Warren street, just off High street.

The Hallowe'en paraders will march down High street to York street.

The night before the parade, the Recreation commission will sponsor parties for elementary school children and dances for the Junior and Senior High school boys and girls. Times and places will be announced later.

Thunderstorm Hits Area; Windy, Cloudy Forecast

A high-pressure cold front from Canada crashed into a static low pressure area and caught Pottstown in the middle yesterday.

A blasting thunderstorm at 11:40 o'clock with lacing rain five minutes later highlighted a day of stormy, broken skies and strong winds. Leaves, many of them green, left trees in cascades.

Another day of the same, minus the rain, was expected today. But bright skies will come tomorrow along with continued cool temperatures.

Tots' Yule Festivities Approved by Good Wills

Approval of the annual Christmas party for members' children was voted last night at a meeting of the Good Will Fire company.

Forty-one firemen attending the session voted to hold the event as in the past, but set no date for the party.

Reports marked the routine business meeting. Harry Wertz, chairman of the ambulance committee, reported 154 ambulance calls for the month of September, while Assistant Fire Chief Robert Roth noted five fire calls during the same period.

Leslie Rhoads, president of the company, had charge of the meeting.

Gunman Steals $176, But Misses $600 Swag

HARRISBURG, Oct. 12 (AP)—A gunman robbed a downtown loan office of $176 here late today but missed a larger haul of $600.

Keiter said another $600 was in the firm's safe.

Truman Plane Lands At West Coast Base En Route to Pacific

FAIRFIELD-SUISUN AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Oct. 12 (AP)—President Truman landed at this West Coast air base tonight en route to the Pacific to get General MacArthur's formula for preventing Communist threats in the Far East from erupting into another war.

The presidential plane, the "Independence," came down here at 10:14 p. m. Pottstown time at the end of a 2040-mile flight from St. Louis. Fairfield-Suisun field is about 60 miles east of San Francisco.

Mr. Truman was to take off again at 3:30 a. m. Pottstown time Friday for Hickam field, Honolulu. From there he will proceed to the rendezvous with General MacArthur—possibly at Wake island.

The President will spend the several hours intervening until his departure for Hawaii at the residence of Col. Joe W. Kelly, commander of the air base.

The "Independence" arrived after dark, coming down at an air base which probably is the busiest in the United States from a military standpoint.

It is at Fairfield-Suisun that many of the Korean battle casualties land. And it is the California terminus of the great airlift which has carried many thousands of tons of war materiel to the fighting front.

Borough Gets $975 In Back Payments From Magistrate

The borough received $975 yesterday from the justice of the peace charged the past Friday night with being several months late in his payments.

The check was for fines paid for State violations, especially overloaded trucks, during the months of July, 1950.

Ralph H. Thomas, borough accountant, told council's police committee Friday night that one of Pottstown's justices of the peace (he was not named) was always several months late paying the money he owed the borough.

Earl R. Strange, committee chairman, ordered police to have the justice of the peace settle his month's accounts not later than the 15th day of the month following.

Only State fines were slow in being paid, it was pointed out. For example, checks for September, totaling $20 for parking fines and $73.50 for drunk and disorderly conduct fines also were received yesterday.

How much is owed for August and September is not known. The justice of the peace levies for State offenses, such as speeding, and also for offenses, such as overloading, committed on the highways, when State police bring offenders in to the borough.

Clash Over Policy Seen Key Feature Of Pacific Parleys

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—One of the questions about the Truman-MacArthur meeting which has set off a debate in the capital is this:

Will the President win over Gen. Douglas MacArthur to his views on Far Eastern policy—or will the general win over the President?

If MacArthur—a highly persuasive man—should prevail, Mr. Truman would have to shift gears on some controversial issues such as Formosa. That would greatly embarrass Secretary of State Dean Acheson, architect of the present diplomacy.

Among the President's advisors at the meeting, however, are scheduled to be the two men who mainly developed the Far Eastern program for Acheson. Even though he will not be present, his views will be represented by Ambassador-at-Large Philip Jessup and Assistant Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who runs Far Eastern affairs in the State department.

If Mr. Truman, known as a stubborn scrapper once he has made up his mind, should persuade MacArthur that he is on the right track about such issues as Formosa, the Administration would be in a much stronger position.

MANY OF ITS Republican critics have made a regular practice of invoking MacArthur's prestige, expert's reputation and soldierly judgment by linking their criticisms with visits to his headquarters, letters or other devices.

There is a third point of view about this argument. It is held by some of the best informed authorities here. They think the President and the general may simply concede the existence of their different opinions in advance and concentrate on more immediate and limited questions.

In general, politically-minded Washington, with its natural suspicions fed by a constant run of rumors, finds it hard to believe the Chief Executive and his Far Eastern commander will not chew over some of the matters that have caused them trouble in the past. As foreseen here, this discussion could be carried on without prejudice to the fact that MacArthur follows orders once issued.

TOP OFFICIALS said the President is going to the Pacific rendezvous prepared to devote 80 percent or more of his time talking about Korean problems—how to wind up the war quickly, get U. S. troops out and push Korean reconstruction. The administration's policy is to switch the troop build-up to Europe at the first opportunity.

The President also wants to impress on MacArthur his view that political and economic reconstruction is a United Nations job, with other countries carrying a great share of the load.

For the other 20 percent, the President could pack in a quick review of what MacArthur thinks about Indo-China, a Red aggression hot spot, and about China's intentions regarding the rest of the Far East.

The ticklish topic of Formosa and MacArthur's personal philosophy about the United States' relations throughout the Orient are expected to emerge in relation to many of these listed subjects. Matters concerning a Japanese peace settlement may be referred to but there actually are no critical open questions of American policy in this field.

Officials say, in fact, that no particular crisis, national or international, made the historic meeting necessary.

The speaker, consultant to a New York firm as well as, locally, to the Stanley G. Flagg company, described methods of fitting men and women to the proper jobs.

He was introduced by George A. Cockefair, general superintendent at Flagg's.

Two new members joined the club last night, Gordon R. Exley 2d and Herbert R. Maack. Dr. George A. McCormick, superintendent of Pottstown schools, transferred in from his Western Pennsylvania Rotary club.

Seventy-five members heard Dr. Genevese's talk. President Charles S. Nagle was in charge of the meeting.

The committee announced that a dance would be held in St. Peter's hall on Nov. 22.

Rainmaker Expert Hints Cloud Seeding Was Drought Cause

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 12 (AP)— Dr. Irving Langmuir, top scientific rainmaker, told the National Academy of Sciences today that cloud seeding may have caused drought in the Southwest last winter.

The dry area was southward from Middle Colorado. Its boundaries were not precisely located. But the drought conditions extended eastward toward a north and south line made by the western edges of Louisiana, Arkansas, and Missouri.

Dr. Langmuir, a Nobel prize winner, said that at the time of reduced rainfall in the Southwest, the opposite happened east of the tri-state line. He attributed this extra rain to the same cloud-seeding that had caused the Southwestern drought.

He said these added rains fell in the Southeastern United States. He did not give exact locations. But he said the rains were widespread and heavy. And he said that last Winter's evidence indicates that cloud seeding can drift downwind for 1000 to 2000 miles, and affect weather there.

THE WINTER SEEDING also caused an increase in the moist winds blowing inland from the Gulf of Mexico. These gulf winds are moisture-laden.

Dr. Langmuir said the force that affected the Gulf winds is heat, and that the rain-making particles produced more heat than the sun over the areas where the particles precipitated rain.

As one result of these induced Gulf winds, the Southwest got more than an ordinary amount of winds from the Northwest. Such winds usually are dry.

The seeding, Dr. Langmuir said, was done by numerous persons and expeditions in Eastern California, in Arizona and New Mexico.

Prime Minister Attlee Equals Churchill's Reign

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP) — Clement Attlee tomorrow will have been prime minister five years, two months and 16 days.

That equals Conservative Winston Churchill's term as head of the government during the wartime coalition and caretaker governments.

Churchill became prime minister May 10, 1940. He resigned on July 26, 1945, and was succeeded the next day by Attlee.

Neither, however, has endangered the record of Tory William Pitt who held uninterrupted tenure for 18 years from 1783 to 1801.

Saloon Owner Denies Killing Robin for Snack

DAYTON, Ohio, Oct. 12 (AP) — Alex J. Phillips, 45, a tavern owner, pleaded innocent yesterday to a charge that he killed a robin.

Game protector Karl Keller said he found the robin, dressed apparently for cooking, in a dish on Phillips' window sill Sept. 20.

The specific charge is "catching, killing and having in his possession a non-game bird."

The game protector described it as the first such case in his 11 years with the State Department of Natural Resources.

Municipal Judge Paul Sherer continued the case. Phillips is free under $200 bond.

For the Man Who's Down But Not Out

A FUND-RAISING campaign to enable the Salvation Army to continue its invaluable service to the less fortunate of the Pottstown area has been announced to start November 13.

The drive primarily has been designed to obtain funds to complete the Army's new citadel on King street, between York and Hanover streets. But the Army will combine its Christmas campaign with the drive for funds.

Upon the success of this drive, set for $25,000, will depend the maintenance of the Salvation Army's present work and the extension of new projects designed to meet the increasing needs of unsettled times. Demands upon the Army have been so great, the present tiny citadel at 268 King street is so overcrowded, that expansion is an absolute necessity.

Pottstown's Salvation Army, under the direction of Capt. Meral Cox, has endeared itself to people of every faith because it always serves humanity at the point of need, at the time of need, regardless of class, creed or color.

Quietly, without red-tape, the Salvation Army stands mobilized 24 hours a day to extend help when this help is required, whether it be clothes to victims of a fire, a roof to the homeless, medical aid to the suffering, food to the hungry or spiritual consolation to the sick at heart.

To those without hope or faith, to those who seemingly are society's outcasts, the Salvation Army is ever a faithful friend, seeking to return value and meaning to life, giving courage to start again, to work again.

These days are days of new beginnings for thousands who are the victims of post-war upheavals and confusion. And once again the Salvation Army is on the march, helping others "to rise on stepping-stones of their dead selves to higher things."

"Marching forward to a better world", with "heart to God and hand to man," the Salvation Army needs and merits the help of all compassionate people.

Whenever need arises, the Salvation Army does not hesitate. You will want to remember in November to help this organization to meet future needs by not hesitating when your contribution is asked.

Medicine on the Hoof

WHEN a doctor looks at a meat animal, what does he think about?

In company with the layman, he probably thinks that the animal will one day be converted into some mighty fine steaks, chops, roasts and other cuts.

On top of that, it is likely that the doctor looks on the animal as a highly important "assistant" in the practice of his profession.

The reason for this is that meat animals, and meat animals alone, are the source of more than 50 vital drugs and medicines. These include insulin, thyroid, liver extract and hormones. Other drugs of meat animal origin which are now in the experimental stage promise medical miracles.

So far they are scarce, and research has not developed to the point where they are ready for general use.

But the indications are that they will either cure or alleviate a number of serious afflictions, such as arthritis, which has long presented grave problems to the medical fraternity.

To provide these medicines, millions of tiny glands from meat animals must be carefully saved and accumulated. The packing industry has taken that job upon itself, and it's no small order. As an example, to make one single ounce of insulin, the pancreas glands of 1500 cattle or 7500 pigs are needed. But the job is always done.

So the meat animal is more than a handsome collection of good things for the dinner table.

He may be your all-important helper when you're sick.

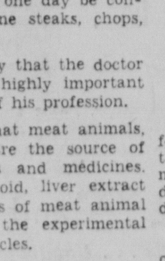
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where the United Nations voted to give the green light on crossing the 38th parallel in Korea. Some of the troops were going so fast after those North Koreans they just followed the traffic — green light or Red!



Bob Hope, by the way, is over there, and it'll be a shock to him. Wait till he sees how Communist propaganda makes use of the word decadent!

And say: There's a lot of sentiment for the UN to have a standing army. The army part sounds all right, but any infantryman will argue there's already too much standing!

Everybody Loses When Workers Live Out of Town

Cites Accident as Example

To the Editor: Four Firestone workers were injured in an auto accident on Route 422 in returning to their homes in Reading Monday afternoon. These men will lose pay for time off, will have medical bills to pay and the company will lose the work these men ordinarily do.

I have noticed similar situations before in reading accident reports in your newspaper.

These, I believe, are good arguments for bringing the Firestone workers to Pottstown to live. I have seen your endorsement of this idea in your editorial column and can't help but agree with your line of reasoning.

Maybe the executives of Firestone never give a thought to what it might mean to have most of their workers live in or near Pottstown. If they haven't, it shows a callousness I never thought possible, even in as large a company as Firestone.

Sure, it's the prerogative of the company to suspend men from their jobs when they walk off their work in violation of their union contract. But is that the only answer the company can give to workers who apparently are unsettled because they know they can go back to their home towns and work if they don't get what they want?

Pensions, wage increases are nice. How about homes? Can a man have pride in his job, his company when his employer doesn't care where and how he lives?

Why must Firestone stand alone among the large Pottstown industries without concern for the personal welfare of its workers and families?

Women Rule World—and Men!

To the Editor: The minister who told the Bible Classes federation the other night that "it's a woman's world" might have elaborated on his point a little more.

He could have gone so far as to say that women rule the world.

They tell a man when he should be home from work, what he must do to share the household chores, how he should spend the paycheck and when it's not big enough to make ends meet.

He comes home to a house full of spoiled kids—spoiled during the day when he's away—and is told to make them toe the line. Besides, he must repair the things around the house that have been broken in the "spoiling" process.

Ah, yes, I can hear many a man say already that he's never been of this kind. And I believe that in his mind he really believes that he and he alone is the master of his house.

The only encouraging part of it is that he'll never know how badly he is being fooled. He'll die happily, thank the Lord, knowing that he has provided thousands of dollars in annuities so that the kind, considerate, little woman won't have to suffer when he's gone.

Pottstown CAUGHT

Depends Upon Who You Are

To the Editor: Maybe you can tell me what would happen if I was arrested, fined and couldn't pay up. My guess is that I would be grabbed bodily and tossed in the jug.

I know what happens when a justice of peace doesn't pay up to the borough for the fines that he's collected. You told me in Saturday's paper. He's allowed to get as much as $1500 behind.

Now I would like to know if men in public office must abide by the law.

Or is it just us poor suckers who vote to keep them there?

Pottstown RD 1 CURIOUS

Financial Bondage

To the Editor: Allow me to quote again the proverb carried over your editorial column on Wednesday: "He is poor whose expenses exceed his income."

That is a masterpiece of understatement.

Such a man is not only poor. He is selling himself to his creditors. He is making of himself a slave.

WASHINGTON

Indo-China Expected To Be Another Korea

By ROGER WARREN

(Ray Tucker is on a vacation.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—Fears that Indo-China may become the next Korea—and suddenly, too—permeate the Pentagon and the State department. The rainy season will end in a few days, the rice harvest will be in by the end of October, and 200,000 well-trained Red Chinese troops are poised north of the border. Russian ships have been unloading heavy material at Chinese ports nearest to Indo-China.

The Indo-Chinese Communists, members of the Viet Minh under Ho Chi Minh, intensified military activity this week and succeeded in throwing back the French forces in the north. The Communists pretty well control the northern border with China as a result of a series of bloody victories. Thus they have opened the gates for the Red hordes from the north.

WORSE: For many reasons, the situation in Indo-China may be much worse than it ever was in Korea. The uplands are covered with jungle growth, making infiltration easy. There are few north-and-south highways, making it difficult to bring up reinforcements. It is hard to tell friend from foe.

Ho Chi Minh has many adherents along the coast of Viet Nam, making it difficult to tell pro-Communists from anti-Communists.

"DOC LAP": Defense of Indo-China is made even more difficult by the ideological situation. Since the war, there has been a rising tide of demands for independence throughout Asia and Indonesia, India and Pakistan have won independence from the British; Indonesia has won independence from the Dutch. Throughout Malaya the cry of "Merdeka" is heard; in Indo-China it's "Doc Lap." Both mean "independence."

To placate the Indo-Chinese, the French divided the country into three states. These are the Kingdom of Cambodia, in the fertile rice lands in the southwest; the Kingdom of Laos, in the west and the north west, and the State of Viet Nam, the boomerang-shaped east coast.

Viet Nam is ruled by Bao Dai, the former emperor who now styles himself the "Head of State." All three states are members of the French Union. While this division satisfied some aspirations for doc lap, the French still rule.

WILY: This situation offers a ready oportunity for the wily Ho Chi Minh. Through three radio stations his guerilla forces captured from the Japanese at the close of World War II—he even hired Japanese technicians to keep them working—and through his agents, he shouts only for independence. He never mentions Communism.

Over the air he cries, "Kill the French! The Frenchman has two shirts. He sleeps with a white woman. He owns a car. Kill the French and there will be yours!"

The fact that he never talks about Communism poses a baffling propaganda problem for the French. To point out that French rule is better than Russian rule is futile because most of the people do not even know what a Russian is. To aver that self-government by degrees is better than Communism is just as bad, because few know what Communism is.

FORCES: The number of soldiers Ho Chi Minh has at his command is not definitely known, but there appear to be at least 30,000 well-armed men, many trained by the Chinese Reds, in addition to the 200,000 Chinese that may be only waiting a signal to cross the border.

Arrayed against these forces are approximately 30,000 French regulars, 18,000 Foreign Legionnaires, 40,000 African Goums, 45,000 Indo-Chinese regulars and up to 50,000 native irregulars. The French are getting some military supplies from the United States.

Maintennnce of this army half way around the world from Paris is a heavy burden on the French. It takes about half of the total military budget and the costs so far have exceeded the total of American Marshall Plan aid to France.

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Buds of Broadway

OF RECENT YEARS society debutantes have bloomed, in their season, not only at Cotillions and afternoon teas, but in the less-sheltered precincts of the Third ave. bars, the 53d st. night clubs and the Greenwich Village jazz joints. Escaping from whatever light chains have been restricting them for 17 years or so, they suddenly turn up at lunch in Mr. Billingsley's emporium, where they are given perfume, champagne and a minuscule tab; and they turn up at El Morocco at midnight and the Little Club at three in the morning—becoming as the unattractive phrase has it, fodder for the gossip columnists.

Many of them are pretty, a few of them are downright beautiful, some of them are charming. And some are Charles Addams characters—long of face, long of hair, and short of manners.

Since they have a way of gliding into my province, and I have observed all of them from Brenda Frazier to Joanne Connelley, I don't mind offering a few paragraphs of advice to this year's crop. A few hints on bistro behavior. You might call it How to Be a Debutante But Never a Bore, or Night Life Without Tears.

1. When you meet your date at a restaurant, meet him in the foyer, don't wait for him at the bar.

2. Choose dresses that complement your endearing young charms. Remember you're a debutante, not a femme fatale in a spy melodrama. Nothing is sadder than the sight of a coltish young thing on the verge of Vassar done up in strapless black number meant for Dietrich.

3. There's nothing wrong with a cute giggle. But they're cuter when they aren't continuous.

4. If you must smoke, don't try to compete with the Broadway cigaret ad. If your beau wants smoke in his eyes, he can join the fire department.

5. Unless your dress is coming apart in four or five places, and you have to be sewn together, limit yourself to five minutes in the powder room. It's rude—and reckless—to leave a man sitting at a table while you spend half an hour redoing your pancake.

6. There's no rule that says you have to drink, you know. But if you feel self-conscious about asking for a coke when the rest of the party is whooping it up with cococtions alcoholic, order a tall fancy drink and make it last all evening.

7. Stick to your own circle of friends. It may be colorful to appear in the glitter spots with a slot machine king, but it won't help your debutante rating.

8. It really isn't smart to be shrill when the floor show is on, so kindly refrain from competing with the paid entertainers. If you ruin Tito Guizar's soft high note, or step on Joe E. Lewis' punchline or heckle Edith Piaf, you're not cute, you're not even a stooge—you're a brat.

9. Ninety percent of last year's debutante allotment was actually awkward. Why don't you make sure of being in the happy 10 percent by taking ballet lessons? Stand up straight when you stand, and sit up straight when you sit.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

SALLY W., 20, is a pretty, auburn haired coed.

"Dr. Crane, my life is miserable though, because I can't stand teasing," she spoke unhappily.

"No matter where I go, the boys soon begin to make fun of my red hair and even go out of their way to pick on me.

"I've tried ignoring their remarks, and then again I've laughed or kidded with them, but they just keep it up to the point where I can't stand it.

"It was this way back in grammar school, too. Dr. Crane, I have begun to stay away from parties because I can't stand the teasing from the boys.

"However, I don't want to miss all the good times of life, so isn't there some way to solve my problems?"

IF GIRLS LIKE Sally only understood a little more male psychology, they wouldn't feel so downcast when they are teased.

For teasing is one of the ways in which men show both their interest in a girl, as well as their desire to make conversation.

This is especially true in the case of men who are not gifted with facile speech.

Since they don't know how to express their regard in a tactful or sophisticated manner, they pick on a girl and may even make her cry.

They simply indulge in teasing as an awkward camouflage for their basic attraction toward her.

Back in grammar school, a boy may thus feel a strong attraction toward a girl in his classroom.

But he may be at that age where it is normal for boys to show disdain for the opposite sex.

But he has a strong desire to be near her and even to touch her. So he conveniently solves both problems by pulling her curls.

Little children will demonstrate a similar form of teasing when they pick on some older relative whom they admire. They will tease and tease, in spite of their mother's admonition to leave the guest alone.

They ignore their mother's counsel, however, and continue pestering the visitor because they like him and want to divert his attention in their direction.

They deliberately engage in provocative naughtiness, hoping that the admired guest will chase them around the house or romp with them.

If Sally will simply realize, therefore, that the boys admire her and are vying for her favor by their teasing, she will immediately broaden her perspective to the point where a former social stumbling block actually can become a stepping stone to greater popularity.

She can smile prettily when they tease her next time and respond:

"I'm so sorry you don't like my hair. Next time shall I dye it blonde or black?"

This question will neatly furnish a conversational cue to the boy and probably force him into an admission that he likes her best with her auburn hair.

Send for my bulletin, "How To Carry On An Interesting Conversation," enclosing a three-cent stamped envelope, plus a dime.

PINNING ON THE DONKEY'S TAIL

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 12 — THE GWYNNSY REPORT: Latest threesome—Ginger Rogers, Herbie (Clippity) Klotz and his money belt . . . Don't hold your breath waiting for Ann Sterling's latest press-agented engagement to wind up at the altar . . . But don't be surprised if attractive and so-nice Nedra Clark (Buddy's widder) and Cubby Broccoli long in the romance dept. make it official by Xmas . . That Faye Emerson-Skitch Henderson bonfire we itemed about coupla months ago is a five-alarm conflagration now. Certainly took a lot of people a long time to recognize a soggy couple when they saw one! . . . Janet Leigh, with lots of beaux, is strictly playing the field. But ONLY playing . . . The Dan Dailey's divorce doings are expected to be followed by another shocker. And another wedding . . . We had our typewriter spanked for reporting the dueting of Air-Exec Jack Frye and Nevada Smith, but "the latest" printed matter on the two has them not only secretly wed but a 120 carat dazzler of his on her third finger left hand.

WISH IT WERE otherwise — and so does everyone else — but you can get odds that the Elizabeth Taylor-Nicky Hilton idyll will be over in six months. And it WON'T be because she isn't trying to make a go of it . . . The Virginia Field - Willard Parker blaze reached the jewelry-buying stage . . . Jean Murat, once wed to Annabella before she wed Ty Power, is one of the actors to be featured in "On the Riviera," the new Danny Kaye kinescope . . . Ken Murray told a reporter, "A husband co-stars at the wedding ceremony but after that he just has a supporting role."

IF TONY MARTIN can finish his male lead in "Two Tickets to Broadway" in time (it's only been about six months getting STARTED!) he'll leap down the road exactly two blocks to dear ole Paramount to play opposite Betty Hutton in "The Blossom Seely Story" — now definitely set as the Hutton-tot's next . . . Cy Bartlett, the writer-producer, is temporarily tearing himself away from 20th-Fox (and also from all those GIRLS) to do a special writing stint on an original that has one heckuva new idea. He'll also fly to London to be best man at Peggy Cummins wedding to Britisher Derek Dunnit . . . NBC is dropping the Charles Boyer show because of sponsor trouble — NO sponsor! . . . Sam Edwards is another top radio actor identified with Private Eye stuff who follows Howard Duff and Frank Lovejoy to the movie sets. Makes his debut with a featured role in the current John Wayne starrer, "Operation Pacific," at Warners.

ANDY McINTYRE — now a restauranteur in Hollywood — was once a kid star in Hal Roach comedies. Now there's talk Andy may return to the screen.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Beware the Jinx!... It's Friday, the 13th!...

★ AFRAID OF SPOOKS? — Today is Friday the Thirteenth, the day when, if you're going to get your head caught in the wringer, it will happen today and you will blame your narrow head on luck forever after. There is little sense in going into instructions for avoidance of ladders, black cats, broken mirrors, train bridges with trains going over, mothers-in-law and all the rest of the unlucky grab bag. It is tricky to fool with these things at any time, superstitious or not. You can lacerate your pinkie and get mercury poisoning from a broken mirror; train bridges can collapse; heavy objects may be dropped from ladders; mothers-in-law can lower the boom in several ways. Friday, however, and particularly Friday the Thirteenth, has long been known as an especially unwholesome time to test your wings flying in the face of Providence. . . .

EXCEPT THAT most people get paid Fridays, the week's sixth day has little to recommend it. There were for instance, the American Black Fridays—May 11, 1866, Sept. 24, 1869, and Sept. 19, 1873—when financial panics began. Then there was Friday, Dec. 6, 1745, the day the news of the Landing of the Pretender, reached London. That was the black one for the English. Friday was named after the Anglo-Saxon goddess, Frig. This name added to the Anglo-Saxon word daeg, meaning day, produced Frig's daeg. It has taken more than a thousand years to get Friday out of that combination but most people agree it has been worth every minute of it. . . .

★ FRIG, INCIDENTALLY, was the wife of the god, Woden, who did for Wednesday what she did for Friday. For a long time Friday was called Hangman's Day because crooks were always swung on that day—possibly to allow the Friday shopping crowds to watch. One of the few good things that happened on a Friday was the occasion when Robinson Crusoe's assistant got his name. Crusoe rescued the young man from cannibals and, seeing by his ingenious calendar that it was Friday, performed the christening on the spot. But getting back to the subject. There's not much you can do about Friday the Thirteenth. Sit tight and wait for it to go away is about the best. Anyway, you'd be surprised. Nothing much usually happens on Fridays the Thirteenth.

★ HAPPY BIRTHDAY! — Mrs. Annie Kurten, who worked for many years at Vaughan Knitting company mills before going to Montgomery County Institution District home, near Royersford, after suffering a stroke the past June, was not forgotten on her birthday yesterday. A group of former workers took up a collection at the mills and got birthday cards, flowers and fruits, then they went to the county home yesterday afternoon to deliver them in person. The group included Helen Reazor, Mary Shipp, Mary Mesko and Theresa Canglin. Mrs. Kurten had lived at 428 High street before her illness. She spent two months in Memorial hospital.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

AMONG common ailments, sore throat gives place to none in the frequency with which it attacks people of all ages. In this sense it is truly an illness which plagues mankind from the cradle to the grave.

Most people think of sore throat as a fairly minor discomfort when, as a matter of fact, it is always a source of possible danger in that it may lead to permanent damage to the heart, kidneys, or other vital structures, since germs from the throat are often carried by the blood to these organs and there entrench themselves.

In most cases, sore throat is caused by germs belonging to one of two great families—the streptococci or the staphylococci. Occasionally, however, diphtheria germs are responsible.

Hence, it is important, particularly in children, to make a culture from the throat to determine whether or not diphtheria germs are present. Of course, all children, before they are one year old, should be given injections of diphtheria toxoid to prevent this disease.

Another cause of sore throat is Vincent's angina or trench mouth. This condition can also be diagnosed by making a throat culture.

Sore throat may occur in a condition known as infectious mononucleosis. In this disorder, there is first a decrease in the number of white cells, followed by an increase in the type of white cells known as lymphocytes.

Still another cause of sore throat is herpes of the tonsils. Herpes are like fever blisters and they may occur on the tonsils. It is likely that they are due to an infection caused by a virus. The throat also may be affected by yeast-like organisms, including one known as thrush.

Sore throat may be one of the symptoms in a group of more serious disorders. For example, there is a condition known as agranulocytic angina, which results from a reaction to certain drugs. Here there is a decrease in the number of white cells in the blood, a feeling of tiredness and enlargement of the lymph glands.

Prompt diagnosis is important so that the offending drug may be avoided and proper treatment given without delay.

Old-Fashioned Fire Pumper Thrills Kids

The sign tells the story of the 70-year-old apparatus brought to Wednesday night's Fire Prevention Week demonstration on High street by the Gilbertsville company. As enthralled kids look on, Company Chief Frank Decker shows how the antique works.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

70-Year-Old Horse-Drawn Fire Pumper Is Pride of Gilbertsville Company No. 1

The fire engine that delights Gilbertsville firemen most hasn't been to a fire in more than 30 years.

It is the horse-drawn, hand-operated machine which was the first pumper Gilbertsville Fire company No. 1 had. It amounts to a corporate hobby with company members.

At Wednesday night's fire truck line-up along High street, celebrating Fire Prevention week, the little wood-bodied engine stole the show from the company's big, modern pumper parked next to it, and for that matter, from the rest of the 21 pumpers in the show, too.

All during the one and one-half-hour program Gilbertsville firemen gathered around the little museum piece, demonstrating how it worked, squirting 50-foot streams from its hose into High street and telling its history.

The facts of its construction and operation are roughly these: Four high spoked wheels support the wood body; a long tongue allows for two horses to pull it; there is room for one fireman to ride the driver's seat, two to stand on a rear platform.

Water is pumped by eight men, four per side, who heave two 8-foot handles up and down, donkey-engine style; the original 2-foot long nozzle is attached to a new 2-inch diameter hose.

As the right rear wheel goes around, a bell is clanged, once per revolution.

FIREMEN SAY the apparatus was built in 1880. The company bought it second-hand in 1914. The previous owner was not known.

It was taken to many fires, but usually firemen were in such a hurry they didn't hitch it to horses. They pulled it themselves. Toward its final active days, it was pulled by a Model T.

Once at a fire, two out-riggers were put down to give stability for the pumping operations. Then firemen could draw either on the 80-gallon booster tank or put two 4½-inch suction hoses into water supplies at the scene.

Two 12-foot ladders, carried on the pumper, could be thrown up on walls.

IN 1918 THE company bought its first motorized apparatus and the No. 1 pumper went to its last fire. This was a barn blaze on the farm of a Davidheiser family in Douglass township, Montgomery county.

The old pumper languished in dust and disuse until the past year when members renovated it completely and gave it a new coat of red and white paint.

Since then, the company has taken the pumper to public demonstrations. At the Pennsylvania State Fire school show at Lewistown the past August and again at a Kutztown fire show, the apparatus took special prizes.

It is hauled in state on a low-bed tractor-trailer of C. H. Zern, company vice president.

Helping with the demonstration Wednesday night were Company Chief Frank Decker, William Moyer, Harold and Earl Zern, Melvin Wilkinson, Walter Moyer, Leon Dry, James Stauffer and William Gerhart.

Amish Customs Explained Before Local Optimists

The Rev. John L. Smoker, pastor of the Baltzell Evangelical United Brethren church, told of some of the religious and social customs of the Amish, in a talk before Pottstown Optimist club members last night.

He said that services are held in members' homes, with the hosts providing dinner after as much as three or four hours of worship.

The Rev. Smoker also told of the Amish fight, especially in Lancaster county against compulsory education in public schools.

He showed slides of Amish farms, carts and distinctive clothing to the 15 club members in the Clover Leaf restaurant.

President Roland T. Brauch was in charge of the meeting.

Girl Cuts Nose and Lip In Tumble From Bicycle

She was taken to Memorial hospital where she was treated by Dr. Stanley Nowacki, Pottstown physician, and Dr. R. K. Glocker, Royersford physician.

She was admitted to the hospital after treatment.

Without Painful Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Four Powers Favor Pelt Plan for Libia

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Four powers introduced today a resolution expressing confidence in the work of Adrian Pelt, United Nations commissioner in Libia, who has been under fire from the Soviet bloc.

The resolution, sponsored by Canada, Chile, Ecuador and Greece, calls on the U.N. to continue technical and financial assistance to Libia so that former Italian colony will be on a sound footing when it receives independence by Jan. 1952.

Russia has charged that Britain, France and the United States are attempting to keep the Libians in a dependent, colonial status so that the Mediterranean country can be used as a military base. Pelt, a Dutchman, is trying to cover up the real goals of the Western powers, the Russians charge.

Bronx Zoo's Ape House Opened by Orang-Utan

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—A new great apes house at the Bronx zoo was opened today—by a great ape.

Andy, an orang-utan, did it—with the help of a bunch of grapes. The grapes were dangled before Andy, near a ribbon across the doorway. Andy grabbed for the grapes and brought down the ribbon.

VFW Post to Send Floral Tribute to Kin of Korean Dead

A bouquet of flowers will be sent by Post 780, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to the family of every Pottstown member of the armed forces who dies in the Korean war, the post voted at a meeting last night.

The sole borough fatality so far is Marine Pfc. Robert E. Kenney, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Herbert Kenney, 1144 Queen street, whose death was revealed Monday.

Flowers have not yet been sent to the Kenney family, John B. Amwake, post commander, said. But they will be sent soon, he said.

Amwake appointed Earl F. Antrim as head of the post's Citizen of the Year committee—a post Antrim has held the past two years. Other committee members, all noted local residents, will be announced later.

The post elected Frank Rumler, Linfield, as post chaplain to replace Robert Kalis, who has been transferred to night work and is unable to attend meetings.

Thirty-five members attended the routine session.

A dominant feature of Early Cape Cot cottages was a large central chimney serving three fireplaces.

He said the offer was conveyed to him "a day or two ago" through a personal friend "whose only part was relating to me what the individual had said."

Some GI with a little urgent business in Korea may come back to the States somewhat scratched but considerably bluer in the bloodstream.

Prince Takamatsu, second brother of Emperor Hirohito has donated 300 grams of his royal blood to the United Nations blood bank—which also may result in a Yank giving out with "So Solly" next time he is reprimanded by his top sergeant.

Veep Alben Barkley who at a rather late stage in life qualified as the country's top lothario in political circles, also rates as one of the most agile self-patters-on-the-back.

Alben Barkley

Barkley, in evaluating his accomplishments as vice president modestly said, "I think I have done a bang-up job." And while there are many people who may agree with the Veep, it is usually feasible to see that the horn is well-tuned before blowing it.

Paula Raymond, one of the more lovely of the Hollywood lovelies, outdoes her contemporaries in the scope of her "most" title.

Paula was appraised at having "the most photogenic face" not in the nation—not in North America—not in the Western world—but in two hemispheres.

Press agents are now working on the Martian vote.

Our fighting lads in Korea took the slap like gentlemen when the beer can controversy arose. But when you have the old glimmers polished up to glimpse Jane Russell and the lady fails to keep the date — that borders on the catastrophic.

Jane Russell

Bosomy Jane was all set to give the boys a little diversion from bang-bang when "the studio put kibosh on it." With Jane on hand the old Sherman adage might have been switched to "War is swell."

* * *

Some U. N. members are seriously concerned with the problem (?) of the Fon of Bikom, 81-year-old tribal king in the British Cameroons.

The Fon has 100 wives — and a U. N. group is of the opinion that comes under the jurisdiction of international problems.

An Iraq delegate has shooed away interference with the Fon's home life by remarking that multiple marriage is a form of social security. "May God give him strength in his arduous task," he added.

Secretary of Defense Marshall, a man noted for his almost reverent attention to appointments, finally missed the boat—or more aptly the plane.

George Marshall

Marshall had a date to wave bye-bye to Mr. Truman before the president's departure to his Pacific rendezvous with Gen. MacArthur. But the Defense chief zoomed into the airport just in time to see the Truman plane head into the blue.

A point in the secretary's defense—the plane pulled out eight minutes earlier than scheduled.

Margaret Truman goes on warbling the high ones while her exbeaux take on more tangible things—wives.

Margaret Truman

Former suitor Frank G. Handy who once headed the entrants in the race for Margaret, will shortly merge with a publisher's daughter, Betty Jean Goshorn.

But in some respects Handy will stay true to the Truman offspring — Miss Goshorn is a Missouri gal.

A wee bit of the Scot is slated to creep into Varzira Wah college in Bangkok, Siam.

King Rama who contributed heavily to the institution, was slightly out of this world after hearing a solid group of Highland bagpipe tooters. Said the monarch, that must become part of the curriculum of ye olde Varzira Vah.

So eight sets of bagpipes are speeding to the student body although the kilts will stay in Scotland.

Some people would walk a mile for a Camel—others would trudge 2000 miles for Roy Rogers.

Roy Rogers

Shirley Mae Norman, a 15-year-old Cincinnati horse opera fan hitchhiked to North Hollywood to enrol herself in the employ of Roy Rogers—watering the nags or putting a stylish crease in Roy's ten-gallon number.

But the ambitious miss was intercepted by the law before she could reach the outdoors king and now it's back to Trygve Lie.

Andrei Vishinsky keeps the barbs rolling about the military potentialities of U. N. Secretary-General Trygvie Lie.

Humorously attacking an American-backed proposal to place troops at the disposal of the General assembly, Vishinsky said:

Mr. Lie on a white stallion would lead forth his force against aggression.

"He has mimeograph machines and other weapons—let him command them."

Man Gets Back $160 Stolen Six Months Ago

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 12 (AP)—Six months ago a holdup man robbed Charles Vaughn, 67, of his wallet and $160—but Vaughn got both back today.

The thief overlooked the bills, which were hidden in a concealed compartment. Apparently, he tossed the wallet into a hedge, where a neighbor of Vaughn's found it yesterday.

Grange Women Pay Program Debt by Serving Men Lunch

Potato salad, deviled eggs, sandwiches, pickles, candy and 25 homemade cakes last night settled a debt North Coventry grange women owed their menfolk.

The entire feed, including the cakes, was demolished by the 80 persons present. It was the forfeit the women paid for losing a program-staging contest to the men the past July.

Before the meal, at the meeting, James Moyer, teacher at Phoenixville High school and member of Kimberton grange, spoke on October, quoting from poetry and statistics.

H. Victor Ayres, lecturer, sang two songs and Jane Waters played four selections on the marimba.

The grange voted to send J. Howard Gaut, master, and Mrs. Gaut to the State grange convention Oct. 23-26 at York. Mr. and Mrs. Ayres will accompany them.

The grange will hold a turkey supper Saturday, Nov. 11 and a Hallowe'en party with square dancing, Saturday, Oct. 21. Both affairs are open to the public.

constantly at the hospital. For three long weeks she stayed by his side during visiting hours and then slept fitfully in the hospital lobby through the night.

"I prayed constantly to St. Anthony that Ronald might live," she said last night. "Now I know my prayers were answered."

RESIDENTS throughout Mrs. DiGiosia's neighborhood joined in praying for Ronald.

Several masses were offered in St. Aloysius Catholic church by friends and relatives, and one of Ronald's nurses, Miss Hakun, had a mass said for him in St. John's Catholic Church of the Greek Rite by the Rev. John D. Taptich, pastor.

After 28 days, Ronald regained consciousness. Almost as if it were a signal, he began to receive a flood of cards and gifts soon afterwards.

With all indications pointing to the possibility that he might live, physicians began repairing the damage to his head. Dr. Sarni, aided by Dr. James I. Wendell, Pottstown pediatrician, made a pinch graft of skin from his left leg to his head.

AS HIS RECOVERY progressed, Ronald came under the care of the women working in the children's ward at the hospital. He had been unconscious and hospitalized so long, it was necessary to teach him to talk and to walk all over again.

Mrs. Catherine Roadarmel, Sara Hartline and Jean Fisher, all of whom work in the children's ward, were instrumental in teaching him, Mrs. DiGiosia said. He also received many visitors, some of them unknown even to his family, who helped him to talk by asking him questions, she added.

A highlight of his long stay in the hospital was the celebration of his third birthday anniversary.

As his birth date, Sept. 3, approached, his father and mother obtained permission from Charles R. Wylie, hospital administrator, to have a party for him. It was held on Labor Day on the lawn behind the hospital, with several of the youngster's friends from Stowe taking part.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, after 105 days in the hospital, Ronald was allowed to go home.

As his parents brought him up Vine street, he looked about him, and declared:

"There's my house."

It was a thrilling moment, Mrs. DiGiosia remarked. Ronald went into the house and insisted on inspecting every room to see if everything still was the same.

"We were worried a bit about his memory," his mother went on to say, "but he knew everything. It was wonderful."

* * *

THE YOUNGSTER'S ability to remember his surroundings after such a long time gives his family hope that he will beat a new deadline, the two years physicians have said it will take for him to return to a normal condition.

"We think he can do it," Mrs. DiGiosia asserted, "he already can feed himself and he is just a little bit nervous."

Glancing occasionally at her son playing before her, she spoke gratefully of the help she had received from her neighbors and friends and the spiritual guidance of the Rev. George Hiller, assistant rector of St. Aloysius church.

"I don't think I'll ever be able to thank all of them enough," she said. "Everyone was so nice and so good to us. It was wonderful."

Reformed Home Building At Allentown Dedicated

The Rev. John B. Frantz, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, yesterday afternoon attended the dedication of a new $500,000 infirmary addition to the Phoebe Old Folks home in Allentown.

The home, established in 1901, is one of the benevolent institutions of the Evangelical and Reformed church. Members of Reformed churches in this area will be among the 150,000 members of supporting congregations who will be asked to make contributions to cover the cost of the new building.

About 800 ministers and laymen from eastern Pennsylvania congregations participated in the dedication ceremonies. The dedicatory address was made by Dr. Louis W. Goebel, Chicago, president of the Evangelical and Reformed church.

The Rev. Frantz is a member of the board of trustees of the home.

Seized by Reds

Former Maryknoll missioner and pioneer in Japan and Korea, Bishop Patrick J. Byrne, of Washington, D. C., is held by North Korean Reds who carried him off when Seoul was recaptured. The Vatican radio, in confirming the seizure, said the bishop's secretary and four priests of his group were forced to accompany him.

FEDERATION SETS GOAL

READING, Oct. 12 (AP)—Fifty thousand dollars has been set as the goal of the Philadelphia area in next February's nation-wide fund-raising campaign of the planned Parenthood federation.

COUNTY PLANNERS —

ery County Planning commission's specifications notes, "It has long been recognized that developers of land in Pennsylvania should be subject to some measure of control and regulation, in the interest of public welfare."

It then cites legislative acts giving authority to planning commissions and lists what must be done:

Unless plans of land laid out for three or more building lots are submitted to the commission for approval, they cannot be recorded.

The penalty for selling or transferring land in a subdivision prior to approval by the commission is a fine of $50 to $100, or 30 days in prison for each lot sold or transferred. In addition to levying the penalty, the county may apply for a court injunction to halt a sale or transfer of land.

Before any borough or township approves subdivision plans, a copy must be sent to the commission.

Boroughs and townships with their own planning groups must submit municipal plans or maps to the county group within 30 days after they are completed.

THE PURPOSE of the county specifications is "to assure the orderly development of residential areas, the co-ordination of existing streets and public utilities with new services, the proper provision of open space for passive and active recreation, and the proper location of future sites for public buildings and shopping areas.

"The integration of all these services will be of mutual benefit to the developer in providing more stable values and to the future home owner in providing the necessary services at minimum cost and maximum convenience, thereby creating conditions favorable to the health, safety, morals and general welfare of the citizens of the county."

The commission's part in land development starts as soon as a builder wants to subdivide land into lots. He must submit copies of the preliminary layout plan, a topographic map and a street profile cross-section and grading maps.

More detailed plans will be submitted if and when the first drawings are approved.

The specifications on streets demand that they be laid out to discourage through traffic in a residential neighborhood. Standards of street widths, intersections, proper sight distances, grades, curb intersections, crowns, drainage and slope of adjoining grass plots, also are set up.

Next, the county's specifications describe subdivision blocks and lots.

THE RULES encourage recreation areas. "The commission does not require an arbitrary percentage of area," they say, "but the developer should set aside not less than 10 percent of the area for these purposes."

Regulations for street grading, storm and surface drainage and pavements are set down, with detailed specifications for street paving, curbs and sidewalks.

"Adequate tree planting shall be completed by the developer," the specifications continue, giving minimum and maximum planting distances.

Finally, the specifications tell in what form the plans must be submitted, down to required plan sizes and margin widths.

2689 Books Loaned During September By Public Library

Pottstown readers borrowed 2689 books from the Pottstown Public library during September as the institution keyed to the tempo of schools reopening.

Freda E. Gloss, librarian, also reported at a monthly meeting of the library board that the "Story Hour" was resumed on Sept. 8. During the month, 16 stories were told to 50 children at the Friday afternoon sessions, she said.

The breakdown on book circulation was: Adult fiction, 1359; adult non-fiction, 377; juvenile fiction, 840, and juvenile non-fiction, 113, for a total of 2689.

Thirty-nine adults and 17 youngsters were registered during the month.

Gifts received in September came from Mrs. A. Burtis Hallock, Thurley Leighton, H. B. May and Mrs. Webster Schlott.

Present at the meeting were Charles J. Custer, board president, Mrs. A. Joseph Prince, Thomas P. Storm, Mrs. Irvin L. Riegner, Mrs. Alex V. Tisdale, Helen V. Purnell and J. Russel Reifsneider.

French Sculptor Named Go-Between in Thefts

PARIS, Oct. 12 (AP)—A 63-year-old French sculptor was formally charged today with receiving and selling nearly $238,000 worth of stolen jewels.

The sculptor, Louis-Robert Sarlin, was named as go-between by Countess Fides de Marliave, 50-year-old society woman jailed Tuesday on a charge of stealing the jewels. They were entrusted to her safe-keeping by Count Bernard de Rochefoucauld, a French resistance hero who died in Dachau concentration camp.

Both Sarlin and the countess face possible five-year jail terms if convicted.

Intentions Were Good, But Memory Faulty

SIGNAL HILL, Calif., Oct. 12 (AP) — City Clerk Heber Chapman came upon this letter in his mail today:

"I am sorry, but I forgot when they took the dog census last year about a puppy my son has. I am enclosing $2. . . ."

Seems the lady is still forgetful, though. The letter wasn't signed, and didn't contain $2, Chapman said.

High School Pupils To See Forest Film

By JOAN KEIM

"Trees and Homes," a moving picture of the beautiful Pacific Northwest, will be shown to the high school students Wednesday. William O. Smith, co-ordinator of the vocational department, has arranged for the showing of the film.

The picture is in color, telling the story of the forest-products industry as well as showing the effects of disease and human thoughtlessness in our forests.

Attendance Room Personnel Is Kept Busy by 'Skippers'

By LILLIAN HOFFER

Room 307 is the common meeeting place for all students with attendance troubles. Mr. J. Robert VonDrach handles this job as well as his many other duties. Two senior commercial girls, Gladys Krassowski and Lillian Hoffer, aid him in the clerical work.

There are a few students whose faces become familiar after a time as making "repeat performances."

Some are continually late, some are absent together for an afternoon more than once, and some make a habit of skipping study halls.

Sometimes, "I went outside" means "I went to the movies."

The day after the opening of the world series, the office was swamped with "headache" excuses which did not get by.

The unusual mix-up this produced caused more time to be spent on the usual duties of checking, filing, locating people, and typing which go on in this room each morning. You can see that 307 is always buzzing with activity.

Marion Rife Gives Historical Reading On Pulaski's Life

By MARY LOU SINGER

On Wednesday over the amplifying system, Marion Rife delivered a reading on the historical facts concerning Count Casimire Pulaski.

The day marked the 171st anniversary of his heroic death. We owe him an undying debt as a leader who aided the Colonies during the War of Independence. His struggle against oppression in his native Poland and in America showed that the fight and love for freedom is the same everywhere.

Pulaski demonstrated that the denial of freedom anywhere is the concern of all who value human rights.

Poland's history is full of dark periods of subjection to conquerors. Today it is a virtually conquered nation under the domination of Communistic Soviet Russia.

The Pottstown High school ensemble, consisting of 16 voices under the direction of Mr. Edward F. C'Neill, sang a tragic chorale entitled, "Under the Yoke of Darkness," depicting one of Poland's dark periods.

Review Is Approved For 11 Convicted Reds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—The Justice department disclosed today that it does not oppose a Supreme court review of the convictions of 11 top Communist leaders.

The department filed a brief with the high tribunal which advocated, however, that the review be limited to the issue of constitutionality of the Smith act as applied to the Red officials.

The 11 were convicted in New York last Oct. 14, on charges of violating the act, which makes it a crime to advocate forcible overthrow of the government.

"PRESTONE" ANTI-FREEZE BRAND

IMPROVED AGAIN!

No other Anti-Freeze can give you this same protection!

DEALERS, ENGINEERS, AUTOMOTIVE SPECIALISTS—

Here's the Inside Story:

Every day sees new developments in the automotive industry... higher compression engines, higher operating temperatures, greater speeds, etc. The cooling system of the average passenger car of today pumps as much as 4,000 gallons of water an hour and carries off enough heat to warm a six-room house in zero weather!

Research is constantly improving "Prestone" brand anti-freeze to meet these changing demands. Latest improvement, now announced to car owners in this ad, was announced some time ago to dealers in trade publications and by mail. (All of your present stock is this improved "Prestone" anti-freeze.)

With "Prestone" anti-freeze, dealers offer their customers the anti-freeze product developed in the world's largest anti-freeze laboratories to give unequalled, all-winter protection against freeze-ups, rust, clogging and foaming... for both new cars and old.

Best Protection Against Rust and Clogging

"Prestone" anti-freeze coats the entire cooling system with a microscopically thin film which shields against rust and corrosion. It combats the destructive action of natural waters on cooling system metals and neutralizes acidity developing from corrosive contamination. It also prevents rust loosening and seepage.

Best Protection Against Foaming

Foaming can cause serious loss of solution through the overflow pipe. Generally, the motorist is completely unaware of this loss, even though it may be a half-gallon or more in a thousand miles of driving. Many anti-freezes foam, but with "Prestone" anti-freeze, there is absolutely no foaming problem—even under toughest driving conditions.

Complete All-Winter Protection

Only "Prestone" anti-freeze can give the complete protection that today's high-powered cars and high-speed driving require. With "Prestone" anti-freeze, you're safe ... and you know it!

The U.S.S. Constitution, "Old Ironsides," carried 24-pound guns, compared with the 18-pounders of British frigates of the time.

KOREAN ATTACK —

stralian destroyer Warramunga also participated.

* * *

AP PHOTOGRAPHER-correspondent Gene Herrick, who watched the assault from the decks of the Missouri, said part of the city was ablaze after one hour of shelling.

Herrick said a Canadian ship also joined in the attack but he did not identify it.

Capt. Jeffrey Brock of the Canadian navy said that in addition to the Chongjin attack, three Canadian destroyers on patrol had hit east coast points. He did not identify them. He added that the Reds appeared to be hurriedly digging in, expecting an assault from the sea.

Herrick quoted a Navy officer as saying the results of the Missouri's attack were good.

Vice Admiral Arthur D. Struble, commander of the task group operating off the east coast of North Korea, told Herrick aboard the Missouri, "We have a 400-round allowance for today." He apparently meant 16-inchers — a tremendous quantity of such big shells.

THERE WERE no official reports on results of the Chongjin bombardment at Navy headquarters in Tokyo or Washington.

Navy headquarters in Washington at first said its reports mentioned only the smaller port of Songjin, 83 miles southwest of Chongjin, but later said Chongjin was the scene of the big bombardment.

Navy planes hit Songjin, Chongjin and many other points all along the North Korean east coast prior to the Missouri's bombardment.

The fact the big ship was busy with operations against the North Korea coast ruled out speculation that she might be the scene of the forthcoming weekend meeting between President Truman and General MacArthur.

In the ground action department of the Korean war, the weakening Red army was falling back before the Allies in the central sector of the 130-mile front in North Korea.

Franco Urges U. S. Aid To Save Europeans

MADRID, Oct. 12 (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco said today Europe is "tottering on the edge of a precipice" and appealed to America to save European civilization.

The Spanish chief of state spoke at ceremonies honoring the 500th anniversary of Christopher Columbus' birth.

Ground Breaking for $31,000 Firehouse At Monocacy Is Scheduled for Monday

Ground for a new $31,000 cement block firehouse to replace the temporary frame headquarters of the Monocacy Fire company will be broken Monday, Leonard W. Happel, company president, announced last night.

The building will be staked out today by Michael Adamski, Pottstown contractor, who plans to move his heavy equipment to the site Monday morning.

Situated on a 200 by 400 foot lot on Pennsylvania avenue, Monocacy Station, the new firehouse will be 35 feet wide and 75 feet long. The front of the one-story building will be faced with brick and will have two overhead doors on the equipment room.

Happel said the firehouse will provide a community center as well as a place to house the company's 1000-gallon pumper. Both doors will be raised and the pumper brought out whenever a community function is planned for the room.

A MEETING ROOM and boiler room will be constructed in the half-basement under the building, while a pine-paneled social room will be built behind the equipment room. Oil heat, with forced air blowers at either end of the building, also will be provided.

Construction of the building is expected to be completed by Jan. 1, Adamski said the work should be finished on time unless held up by bad weather. It will have concrete, asphalt tile covered floors to make it almost completely fire-resistant.

The company was organized in 1935. It was equipped with a second hand fire truck which was turned in on a new Hahn pumper in 1943.

Plans for the firehouse were made so the building would be able to house a second apparatus as the company grows.

TRUMAN PLANE —

grim and even a bit tired as he stepped down the landing ramp.

"Where's that telephone?" he asked an Air Force officer.

The usual banter with reporters, who preceded him here in a chartered commercial plane, was missing.

He did say that he felt "fine" and that he had a "fine trip" in response to reporters' questions.

Mr. Truman was to be joined soon thereafter by top ranking officials who will accompany him to the meeting with General MacArthur.

He told reporters he expected to talk with his advisers when they arrived aboard the "Dew Drop," an Air Force Constellation. Aboard that plane are Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff; W. Averell Harriman, presidential foreign affairs expert, Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup, and Dean Rusk, assistant secretary of State for Far Eastern affairs.

LATER, PRESIDENTIAL Secretary Charles G. Ross said Mr. Truman's telephone call was made to Mrs. Truman at the Blair house in Washington, D. C., to inform her of his safe arrival.

Told by reporters that they thought Mr. Truman looked grim, Ross said he could not understand that because the President was in "unusually good humor" throughout the six hours and 45 minutes flight, during which he read reports, looked at maps and visited frequently in the cockpit.

"He was very much awake over the Rockies looking at the scenery," Ross added.

The President will attend a luncheon in Honolulu Friday as the guest of Admiral A. V. Radford, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet.

He will depart around midnight Friday from Honolulu on the last leg of the journey to the meeting west of Hawaii with Gen. MacArthur.

Ross still declined to say whether Wake island would be the meeting place, the exact date of the meeting or how long it would last. Nor would he say when Mr. Truman would return.

ASKS 18-YEAR-OLD DRAFT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey said today the drafting of 18-year-olds would eliminate the need of re-inducting World War II veterans.

Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy, however, ordered sand brought to the spot and he and Smith scattered it over the road. The pumper, with two other Good Will firemen, stood by to prevent any possible fire.

DAMAGE ESTIMATED at $200 was caused by an accident at 11:15 o'clock Wednesday night on Route 422 in Trappe, Collegeville State police reported yesterday.

M. C. McLaughlin, 64, Limerick, was driving toward Pottstown, he said when a car that he thought was parked, driven by Harry M. Reichert, 40, Collegeville, turned into him.

Damage was to the right front of McLaughlin's car and the left front of Reichert's. Neither driver was injured.

Reichert said he had been turning into a driveway.

Barn, Hay Destroyed In Blaze at Lawndale

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12 (AP)— Fire, which owner Stewart Fisher said he believes children caused, destroyed a cattle barn containing 4000 bales of hay at Lawndale today.

Fisher, 36, estimated the loss at $25,000. Sixty cows and a three-day old calf were led from the burning building by farm hands and Fisher. He owns six other farms in Montgomery county.

Two Motorists Arrested; One Licensed, Other Not

An unlicensed driver and a licensed motorist who permitted him to operate a car were fined $35 and costs early yesterday morning when they were arrested by Collegeville State police on High street.

The two men, Richard D. Rarris and Arthur Eckert, both of Reading, were arrested by State Trooper George R. Tuckey at 3 o'clock and taken before Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus shortly afterwards.

Cadmus fined Farris $10 for operating a car without a license and levied a $25 fine against Eckert for permitting the violation. Both men paid a total of $42, including the costs.

Firemen Needed to Get Boy Back in Tag Game

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP) — Daniel Jones, 12, escaped being "it" today, but it took a fire department crew to get him back in the tag game.

Daniel, playing with other youngsters in a South Side school yard, climbed 10 feet up a telephone pole to avoid being tagged. His knee became wedged between the pole and a school building to which it was bolted.

While he hung to the coping of the building, firemen unbolted the pole and released him.

One Dies, Six Injured As 2 Navy Planes Crash

GUAM, Friday, Oct. 13 (AP)—Two Navy planes crashed into the sea near here within half an hour Thursday, leaving one dead, one missing and six injured.

A naval vessel picked up four survivors of the first crash after the crew had been in the water 20 minutes. Two others were rescued 15 minutes after the second plane went down. Both planes were on pre-dawn training flights.

The Navy, withholding announcement of the crashes until today, did not identify casualties or the types of planes involved.

Vishinsky Asked for Genuine Indication If He Intends to Reconcile Differences

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Kenneth Younger, British Minister of State, called on Russia's Andrei Vishinsky today "to give us some indication he really has a genuine intention of trying to reconcile differences."

It was the West's answer, in the 60-nation Assembly Political committee debates on the Acheson plan, to two Russian proposals demanding Big Five security talks and a speed-up of efforts to organize U.N. forces under Security council supervision.

Younger's statement matched U. S. reaction: The proposals are not new, they were provided for long ago in the charter, and only Russian obstruction for four years has stood in the way of making them effective.

Bolivia, Mexico and Venezuela brought to 27 the nations endorsing the general aims of the Acheson plan. Two countries have been on the fence and four of the five countries in the Russian bloc have already spoken against it.

The American-backed seven-power plan provides for quick emergency Assembly sessions when the Security council fails to act on an aggression; setting up U.N. armed force units in every country; peace patrols to report on trouble spots, and a commission to survey U.N. member resources for a common defense pool.

TWELVE SPEAKERS remained on the list for the general debate when this afternoon's session opened. The U. S. and the Soviet union are scheduled to wind up the general discussion.

Vishinsky absented himself fom the morning session to work on the final Russian statement and missed hearing a Bolivian denunciation of his action in dictating the appointment of a cabinet in Romania.

The general debate was nearing a close, but several days of argument on separate provisions was in store.

Younger said that to read the text of Vishinsky's proposals "one would think that he was producing brand new ideas, but in fact, as all members know, we have been trying for nearly five years to bring Article 43 into operation, but always we have met with the most stubborn Soviet obstruction."

This referred to the handling of U. N. forces through the Security council's Military Staff committee. The Russians have never agreed with the majority on the committee and have boycotted it since last January over the Chinese representation issue.

CAMBRIDGE, Eng., Oct. 12 (AP)—U. S. airmen stationed at Mildenhall Training base are to have a special bus to take them to and from nearby Cambridge during off hours. Cambridge licensing authorities granted the permission today.

Engineers Make Bridge Safer Than It Looks

At first glance, these members of a U. S. 25th division mine detector squad appear to be treading on dangerous ground as they cross a badly battered bridge somewhere in South Korea. But the U. S. engineers had been there hours before and, using rails and logs, had put the span in fairly rugged condition.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship, of Bethel church, recently served a dinner at the Tall Cedars hall, of Spring City.

The playing of chimes from the church tower at Bethel Methodist church was an innovation at the Rally Day exercises. The 66 bells from the Germantown Methodist church were heard on recordings played by Zion's Lutheran church and demonstrated by Robert Famous.

Needler of Commies Resumes Broadcast

BERLIN, Oct. 12 (AP)— By popular demand, "Comrade Otto Pieckewitz" is going back on the air to needle the Communists some more.

"Comrade Otto"—his pseudonyn is a combination of the East German prime minister's first name, the East German president's last name and a Witz for Russian flavor—recently was taken off Rias, the American radio, after several months of broadcasting caustic comments on Communism as "a 200 percent Communist."

A flood of fan mail poured in from Germans in the Soviet zone asking that he be returned to the air. So back he went. He won't tell his real name, probably because he broadcasts, straight-faced, such as this:

"Did you know that the East zone propaganda ministry has been burglarized? Know what was stolen? The complete results of the coming (Oct. 15) elections."

Russian Veto May Fail To Halt Lie Re-Election

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 12 (AP)—The Soviet Union today used its veto power in an effort to block the re-election of U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie but legal experts at the U.N. said the assembly might be able to extend his term, possibly for three years.

These experts argued that in cases where the Security council is not able to make a recommendation the General assembly could extend the term of the secretary-general. Russia is expected to challenge this position but majority delegates said Lie could be retained.

Jacob A. Malik, Soviet deputy foreign minister, cast Russia's 46th veto at a closed meeting of the Security council against Lie's appointment to a new five year term beginning next Feb. 1.

The council vote was 9 in favor of Lie. The Soviet Union opposed, and the 11th member, Nationalist China, abstained.

Malik then proposed Zygmunt Modzelewski, foreign minister of Poland, for the post and he was promptly voted down by the Western powers.

RUSSIA ALONE voted for Modzelewski. China, Cuba, Ecuador and Yugoslavia opposed him. Six countries abstained: the United States, Britain, France, Norway, India and Egypt.

Lie declined comment, but associates said it could be assumed he would continue if the assembly extended his term.

American Delegate Warren R. Austin, said after the meeting:

"There was never a moment of doubt in our position. We have been for Lie from the beginning. We consider him exceptionally gifted with extraordinary characteristics, fitting him for this job for which there is no precedent.

"Although he has taken stands on some questions with which we could not agree, that makes no difference. We have the greatest respect for his courage."

Frankfurter Clashes With U. S. Legal Aide

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice Frankfurter engaged in a shouting exchange with U. S. Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman today in the case of a government employe fired on grounds of disloyalty.

The clash was magnified by a new loudspeaker system in the Supreme court chamber where pin-drop quietude normally prevails.

Throughout a stormy two-hour hearing, Frankfurter repeatedly challenged what he called the "secret, untested findings" used as a basis for the dismissal of Miss Dorothy Bailey from her $8000-a-year job in the U. S. Employment service.

Miss Bailey was fired under the President's loyalty program on a finding that "reasonable grounds" existed to believe she was disloyal to the United States.

THE CIVIL SERVICE commission's Loyalty Review board recommended her dismissal after studying FBI reports which were not disclosed to her.

Summing up his disapproval, Justice Frankfurter told Perlman:

"The most important fact in this case is that the secret, untested, unquestioned finding by the attorney general is not subject to review by anybody but the persons who cut off the heads."

Obviously nettled by Frankfurter's contention that the Federal officials who fired Miss Bailey had no evidence, Perlman replied heatedly:

"That isn't so, and Justice Frankfurter should not say it is so. They had plenty of evidence. They did not disclose the evidence because that is not authorized by the President's order."

Western Hemisphere Urged to Join Hands As Aggression Block

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 12 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer tonight called on the nations of the Western hemisphere to pool their efforts and resources to combat the totalitarian threat to freedom.

In a Columbus Day banquet address before representatives of every Latin American nation, Canada and the United States, Secretary Sawyer said the 22 nations of the Western hemisphere "must do our utmost to prepare ourselves for whatever emergency may lie ahead."

Charles Sawyer

Reviewing the part the Western nations played in defeating totalitarian aggression during World War II, Sawyer told how "the new world became a strong and well-stocked 'arsenal of democracy', an enterprise in which the entire hemisphere participated.

"Today we are engaged in another struggle.

"No man alive understands the many implications of the total conflict.

"Nations that abhor external domination must remain strong and become stronger to meet the threat to freedom. We in the Western hemisphere stand side by side—the stronghold of freedom."

Battered French Weigh Boost to Hanoi Defense

SAIGON, Indochina, Oct. 12 (AP)—French forces gave up another outpost today north of Hanoi, and serious consideration was being given to bolstering Hanoi itself against the danger of a Vietminh attack in the wake of a series of sharp French reversals.

Transformation of the Vietminh guerrillas of Moscow-supported Ho Chih Minh into a powerful regular army has forced the French to take precautions to safeguard Hanoi, great trading center in Northern Indochina and former seat of the French governor general.

Frolicking Squirrel Felled by Hot Current

GLOUCESTER, N. J., Oct. 12 (AP)—A squirrel scampering along a high tension line virtually set Gloucester volunteer firemen "nuts" today.

The little animal short-circuited the fire alarm system, called out the members of four volunteer fire companies and set a small fire at the home of one member where wires led from his house to his private alarm box.

The squirrel's body was found under the spot where it inadvertently stepped on both a 26,000-volt line and a much smaller line which carries the fire alarm system.

2,100,000 Men Asked by Military

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley reported tonight that the military high command is aiming for an armed force of 2,100,000 men by next June, with 62 air groups and 905 Navy ships.

"Even these forces will not be adequate," Bradley said.

Noting that current defense moves carry a "price tag" of $25,000,000,000, Bradley disclosed that the nation's military chiefs are now working on a plan "that's going to cost more money and take more effort and more men in uniform."

The general is chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

He said the new program will be submitted to President Truman for presentation to Congress as soon as it is ready.

Bradley did not say how much more money will be needed, but he said he had asked a group of Detroit industrialists recently if they would be "willing to face an annual bill of 30 to 40 billion dollars for defense if it were necessary."

* * *

THE FIVE-STAR general said the topic of defense costs came up at a Detroit dinner three weeks ago attended by men "who represented a sizeable part of our industry."

He quoted them as saying in reply:

Yes, we will do with fewer profits, if we have to we'll give you anything America honestly needs, and we will pay the bill if you can give us assurance that this is the best way to peace—and if not peace, to saving our skins."

Bradley's forecast of a 62-group Air Force by next June is four groups more than has been previously disclosed. The target of 2,100,000 men in uniform is a 50 percent increase over the nation's armed strength before the Korean war broke out last June 25.

"We are building this force as rapidly as possible, as fast as men can be inducted and trained, and as ships can be de-mothballed," he said.

Happy Mom Has 11th Girl in Row

ATHENS, Ohio, Oct. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Frances Gillette of Stroud's Run, Ohio, celebrated her 35th birthday today—24 hours after giving birth to her 11th consecutive daughter.

Mrs. Gillette's physician said he thought the Ohio mother had set some sort of record by having 11 girls in 15 years without ever having had a son.

"I don't care much about the record," smiled Mrs. Gillette from her bed in Sheltering Arms hospital.

Mrs. Gillette, a heavy-set brunette with a ready smile and an utterly relaxed viewpoint on life, said "I don't mind at all" having all girls.

She smiled when someone commented that the father, Harold Lee Gillette, 41, probably was disappointed in not having a son along the line.

"You can't have everything," she said calmly. "He'll just have to be disappointed."

FOR THE BENEFIT of a newspaper reporter, Mrs. Gillette slowly ran down the list of Gillette girls.

"There's Wanda, 14; Virginia, 12; Barbara, 11; Sue, 9; Sharon, 8; Frances, 7; June, 5; Lucy, 4; Bonita—she'll be three in December—and Norma Jean, 14 months.

"And, of course, our new baby. She hasn't been named yet."

The newest Gillette, a healthy, wriggling little girl who weighed 7 pounds, 12 ounces, arrived yesterday. Mrs. Gillette observed her 35th birthday today. Tomorrow she goes home to the little six-room frame house in the Stroud's Run community, five miles north of Athens in Southeast Ohio.

Father Gillette wasn't around today. He was busy earning a living in the service department of the McBee company in Athens for 11 girls, a wife and a six-room house.

O'Dwyer, Top Bookie May Appear Before Senate Crime Probe

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Senate crime probers said today they may call ex-Mayor William O'Dwyer and Brooklyn bookie boss Harry Gross, whose $20,000,000 gambling empire is under grand jury fire.

"We're looking into it," said Sen. Estes Kefauver, Tennessee Democrat and head of the Senate crime investigating committee.

Sen. Tobey (R-NH) spoke a little more strongly. If it's agreeable to Kefauver, he said he would like to talk with O'Dwyer and the bookie at some future date.

Gross has admitted paying off crooked New York City police at the rate of $1,000,000 a year for protection. However, he has refused to give their names.

O'Dwyer, who quit as mayor Aug. 29 to become ambassador to Mexico, once called the Brooklyn grand jury a "witch hunt." But he made a special trip home this week to apologize for the remark.

The Brooklyn grand jury announced yesterday that it is calling O'Dwyer as a witness. No date was set.

THE SENATE committee wound up two days of hearings here with a threat to cite for contempt one of its key witnesses, Meyer Lansky.

Kefauver said Lansky refused to say whether gambler Joe Adonis, bookmaker Frank Erickson and reputed crime leader Charles Fischetti were business associates of his.

He did admit knowing the trio, however, Kefauver told newsmen.

Kefauver and his staff left New York City for Trenton, N. J., and Philadelphia, promising to return here in six weeks or two months for "an open hearing in the New York-New Jersey area."

In Philadelphia, Kefauver said, his full committee will gather to act on the contempt charge against Lansky.

The stop-over in Trenton is to talk to Anthony Guarini, a New Jersey gambler now in jail there on gaming charges.

The secret hearings were dealt with gambling activity in the New Jersey-New York area.

Kefauver said Lansky refused to tell the investigators whether he had any connection with the Flamingo club in Los Vegas, Nev., the Beverly club near New Orleans or gambling inns at Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

MacArthur Gets Nod For N. Korea Civil Rule

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 12 (AP)—The U.N. Commission on Korea today limited the authority of the Syngman Rhee government to South Korea and empowered Gen. Douglas MacArthur to set up United Nations civil rule in North Korea.

The commission unanimously approved at a closed meeting an Australian proposal to exclude the Rhee regime from areas beyond the 38th parallel until nation-wide elections can be held. This will have the effect of putting Rhee before the Korean voters again.

Immediately after the vote, the commission cabled its decision to Gen. MacArthur, thus giving him the go ahead to establish civil rule in the liberated northern areas.

Under the Australian proposal, officers representing various national armies fighting under the U.N. colors will be associated with the civil administration.

INFORMED CIRCLES said the main purpose of the Australian proposal was to preserve freedom of action for the commission in Northern Korea until the elections are held. The seven-member commission will start operating in Korea as soon as the military situation permits.

The commission's action came as the Russians delayed U. N. economic and social council debates on Korean relief and rehabilitation by a surprise attempt to seat Red China.

After an hour and a half of heated exchanges between Russia's Amazasp A. Arutiunian and Nationalist China's Dr. Tsune-Chi Yu the council defeated the Soviet proposal 11 to 7. Britain, India, Pakistan and Denmark joined Russia, Poland and Czecholslovakia in the vote. The United States opposed the proposal on grounds that the question of Chinese U. N. representation is for the General assembly to decide.

Australia's proposal to keep the Rhee government temporarily out of North Korea reflected the views of some U. N. delegations that resistance in the north will soften if the Koreans are offered a chance ultimately to establish a broader-based government.

U. S. Halts Entry Of Aliens With 'Freeze' on Visas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—The government today announced a temporary world-wide "freeze" on visas to aliens seeking to enter the United States. The action was taken under the tough new Communist-control law.

The shutdown in effect threw a screen around this country pending clarification of the statute which Congress passed over President Truman's veto.

The State department issued the suspension order as scores of aliens—chiefly Germans and Italians—were detained at Ellis island, New York, and many hundreds of others were on the high seas enroute to American ports.

Crew members on some foreign ships arriving in this country were also barred from going ashore.

The State department cabled U. S. embassies and consulates all over the world to hold up visas—entry permits—until they can recheck the background of aliens planning to come to the United States.

American officials abroad were instructed to notify transportation companies of the suspension order and warn them of possible liability for damage if they transport aliens to this country who do not have valid permits.

Displaced persons are exempted from the order.

French Gov't Chiefs Begin U. S. Parleys For Arms Finances

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Two French cabinet officers started a round of talks with top American officials today with the aim of getting about $750,000,000 to spur France's rearmament.

Defense Minister Jules Moch and Finance Minister Maurice Petsche began outlining their case at a luncheon at the Pentagon sponsored by Gen. George C. Marshall, secretary of Defense.

Secretary of State Acheson and Treasury Secretary Snyder also sat in as the Frenchmen told how their government plans to more than double defense spending next year—if the United States and other Atlantic Pact Allies help out.

Petsche arrived from Paris at National airport only a few hours earlier.

"I am not a beggar. I am a grateful friend," he told reporters as he arrived.

Informed diplmats said Moch and Uetsche have drawn up a plan to hike French defense spending from $1,200,000,000 in 1950 to around $2,450,000,000 next year.

Moch and Petsche are hoping to get a quick answer from the United States so the French government can present its bigger defense budget to Parliament shortly after it convenes Oct. 17.

A TOP AMERICAN official who has seen the French proposal said the United States should be able "within three or four days" to give its verdict.

In preliminary talks thus far, the French have said that they have already assumed heavy burdens to help the Western world curb Communist explansion.

They have mentioned the big drain on the French treasury caused by the five-year-old war against Communist forces in Indo China.

The main French fear at present appears to be that unless large scale financial help is forthcoming immediately, rearmament will touch off a dangerous inflationary spiral that will shake France's economy.

Both American and French officials are agreed that any jump in French living costs would provide ammunition for the powerful French Communist party which is bitterly opposed to rearmament.

PETSCHE AND MOCH intend to stay here about a week explaining the details of the French rearmament picture to State and Defense department experts.

As Petsche arrived, another important foreign visitor, British Reconstruction Minister Hugh Gaitskell, wound up a week of similar discussions with American officials. Gaitskell arranged to leave by plane for Ottawa this afternoon for a four-day visit in the Canadian capital.

During his talks, he found out the United States will insist on close supervision of all dollar allocated to Britain and other Pact countries to help rearmament. This ruled out his hope the United States would permit Britain to use American dollar help as it saw fit in order to expand the flow of tanks, guns and planes.

The United States has a fund of $5,225,000,000 which it can split up among about 20 friendly countries who are seeking to build defenses against possible Communist aggression.

Ilya Ehrenberg Urges End of Rearmament

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 12 (AP) — Soviet writer Ilya Ehrenberg told newsmen here today war is inevitable within the next two or three years unless the rearmament race is halted now.

Declaring that the chief problem today is to find a way for East and West to go on living side by side, Ehrenberg said:

"It would be foolish to let the weapons prove which of the two systems is right."

Truman-MacArthur Conferences to Put War-Scarred Wake in Limelight Again

TOKYO, Friday, Oct. 13 (AP)—Far out in the Pacific, 1985 miles from Tokyo and 4300 miles from San Francisco, a tiny necklace of three coral islet rings a quiet lagoon.

This cluster is Wake island, where President Truman and General MacArthur may meet this weekend.

Such a meeting would be a historic climax for the shimmerings spits of land which, uninhabited until 1931, became the scene of a heroic battle by a handful of U. S. Marines against Japanese invaders six years later.

Wake island today is a busy, sunbaked airport. Military planes and commercial craft of several lines roar steadily on its coral runways. Maintenance crews crowd the whitewashed quonset huts that dot the island. A small hotel and dining room is provided for transient air passengers.

Near the sea stands a tiny coral church. Near it are some of the guns the marines used in their valliant two-week stand against the Japanese.

INDICATIONS IN Tokyo and the United States are that, despite its unprepossessing appearance, Wake has been selected for the most dramatic meeting of the Korean war.

Nobody in Tokyo would definitely confirm the selection, but it was understood that islanders were making preparations to receive eminent visitors.

The island's main recommendation as a conference place is its isolation. It is 1985 air miles from Tokyo and 2300 west of Hawaii.

(Wake's slender radio communications facilities are devoted to air traffic. They could not readily handle the volume of news dispatches which a Truman-MacArthur conference would entail. One of the Navy's highly-specialized communications ships of the amphibious-group command type could carry the load however. One of these, the Mt. McKinley, served such a purpose in the Inchon landings Sept. 15).

Only four and one-half miles long by two and one-half miles wide, Wake was for many years a forgotten dot in the Pacific. Discovered in 1796 by William Wake, commander of a British schooner, it was claimed for the United States during the Spanish-American War.

* * *

GEN. F. V. GREENE, commanding a Philippines expeditionary force, went ashore July 4, 1898, and planted a small American flag.

In 1935 a steamship carried to Wake all the facilities for an airfield. The islet acquired its first residents, employes of Pan-American Airways.

When the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, only a small detachment of Marines was garrisoned on Wake. Three days later the Japanese anchored off the atoll and signalled for the Wake force to surrender.

But Wake's defenders gallantly fought off the invaders for 14 days, under command of Brig. Gen. (then major) James P. S. Devereaux. The enemy captured the outnumbered garrison on Dec. 24.

The American flag was hoisted again over Wake—on Sept. 4, 1945, after the Japanese surrender.

Retail Dealer Groups Propose Loosening Of Credit Curbs, Point Out Sales Drop

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Retail trade representatives today voiced strong opposition to wage-price and rationing controls at present.

They urged that consumer credit curbs be relaxed instead of tightened.

Spokesmen for a number of national retail dealer associations told government officials sales have fallen off since the credit curbs were imposed Sept. 18, and that retail prices have declined already "in some areas."

M. I. Behrens, New York, representing the National Retail Furniture association, declared the curbs on retail installment terms are "hitting the poor man most."

Maury L. Nee, Washington, D. C., businessman who heads the Commerce Department's retail advisory committee, said that used car sales in particular are in "bad shape."

"Retailers are concerned by the dropping off in sales volume since the middle of September," he said, ascribing this to the credit curbs and to a turn-down in retail buying since military successes replaced defeats in Korea.

THE RETAILERS spoke up at a meeting with officials of the National Production authority (NPA), Commerce department controls agency, and amplified their remarks to newsmen later.

Their protests on the credit curbs came while the Federal Reserve board was considering action, possibly as early as next week, to make still tougher the controls on instalment buying applied in mid-September.

Those controls require a one-third down payment for new or used cars and full payoff in 21 months; 15 percent down and 18 months for a wide variety of household appliances, and ten percent down and 18 months for furniture and rugs.

Nee told NPA Administrator William H. Harrison that retail prices went up only 1.6 percent between June and August, while wholesale prices were rising eight percent.

He said retailers, conscious of consumer reaction, have held down prices and will continue to do so as far as possible, but added that their efforts may be only a "delaying action."

Nevertheless, he said, retailers in general feel that "direct controls" are not necessary at this time.

'Fashion Frolic' Staged by PTA and Pupils Of Royersford High School in Auditorium

A variety of clothes for tots, pre-teen agers, teen agers, juniors and matrons were modeled last night in Royersford High school auditorium when the Parent Teacher association of the school held a "Fashion Frolic."

Clothing, bridal fashions, millinery and accessories were furnished by Pottstown and Royersford merchants.

Also scene stealers, the children began the show with primary fashions and, as usual, put the audience in a receptive mood. First to appear was little Judy Hilborn in a flamingo cotton dress suited for school. Other primary models showing clothes in their most sophisticated manner were:

Joan Thompson, in a gray chambray dress; Petty Copenhafer, in green and red plaid; and for the boys, Lee Hostetter, in a natty looking maroon corduroy jacket, gray longies and matching tie.

* * *

DENNIS JEFFRIES wore a brown suede dress suit, while Gary Ebert showed a twill coat with mouton collar, tweed trousers and green sport sweater.

Young Scott Vining showed something no young man could afford to have missing from his wardrobe: A complete Hopalong Cassidy outfit!

"Sunday go to meetin'" dresses were the delight of the small fry in the audience. Appearing again, Judy Hilborn showed one in wine velvet; Joan Thompson in green broadcloth with lace; and Patty Copenhafer in a lovely lime green broadcloth.

Starting things off in fine style for the pre-teens was Miss Joan Fagley in a green and red plaid coat worn over a gray pleated skirt and green jersey. Miss Mary Louise Wisler appeared in a smart gray topcoat over a colorful plaid dress, while Miss Geraldine Stepp brightened up a green and black cotton dress with a bright red coat. These clothes were classed as "date bait." Miss Jane Lewis showed a taffy colored coat with a plaid corduroy dress.

With a rustling and swishing the girls again walked down the ramp in taffeta coats in colors of aqua, navy, tangerine, green and rose.

SHOWING WHAT the modern young teen-ager is wearing was Miss Elizabeth Giaquinto in a bright blue wool dress, while Miss Lydia Reed showed an orange and gray plaid sport dress. A gold corduroy dress was chosen by Miss Betty Gerges.

The girls completely thrilled their viewers in evening gowns made just for prom pretties. Miss Gerges wore a black and white striped strapless taffeta number with a black velvet bolero. Miss Reed showed, to good advantage, a blue tulle with separate jacket trimmed with sequins, as Miss Kulp swirled onto the platform in a gold lame and tulle featuring a removable skirt.

Something glamorous was the red velvet gown with appliqued stars on the tulle skirt shown by Miss Giaquinto.

The Junior Jane was represented by Miss Leonora Remington in a red and green check sport dress with red velvet tam. Miss Freda Katz wore a fashionable double breasted beige coat with soft beaver collar, and Miss Lorraine Lightcap showed a bright yellow belted sport coat.

A THREE-QUARTER length taffy colored coat met with approval when shown by Mrs. Dorothy Shaw, as did the fitted garnet wool coat with deep pointed mouton collar worn by Miss Remington.

For an afternoon tea party Miss Katz chose a black taffeta dress while Miss Lightcap selected a green faille crepe with the popular dolman sleeves. Miss Remington appeared in a black taffeta with black brocade overskirt, and an irridescent blue taffeta was shown by Mrs. Shaw.

A brown dress coat with caracul collar, worn by Miss Mary Benner, told the fashion story for modern matrons. Mrs. Kay Hunsicker was smart in a beige, loose fitting coat with silver fox collar. These two also modeled semi-formal dresses for matrons styled in blue faille trimmed with gold nailheads, and black faille with side drape.

THE CLIMAX of the show was a bridal party, with Miss Jean Miller as the bride.

Little Eloise Menegat was the flower girl in a yellow satin gown with a halo completing the effect. Mrs. Shaw, matron of honor, wore an orchid satin gown of traditional lines with a tulle skirt.

The bridesmaids, Misses Lightcap, Remington, and Katz all wore Perriwinkle blue taffeta gowns with net applique on the skirts, net shoulder capes, and matching crownless picture hats with lace trim.

Appearing in full dress suits were Messrs. Ernest Neubert, as the bridegroom; David Landes, best man; David Hunsberger, Ross Shaw and Richard Phenegar as ushers.

Commentator was Mrs. Fred O. Heller, president of the PTA. Music for the show and during intermission was presented by Miss Elva Place and Mr. Ralph Quigg, vocal soloists; and Miss Betty Brimmer and Mrs. Kenneth Smith, pianists.

Students ushering were: Nancy Henry, Dolores Leonhardt, Sandra Bauman, Mary Beth McIntyre, Betty McParland and Mary Undercoffler.

The models walked down a ramp erected in the middle aisle of the auditorium, enabling the 600 spectators to get full view.

Miss Lena Kriebel Becomes Bride of Mr. Jesse Wilson

Miss Lena E. Kriebel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asher Kriebel, East Greenville, and Mr. Jesse W. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Wilson, Schwenkville, were united in marriage recently in Palm Schwenkfelder church, Palm.

The Rev. Lester K. Kriebel, pastor, officiated at the double ring candlelight ceremony. The church was decorated with white mums, pompons and gladioli.

Music was provided by 13-year-old Carl Schmidt, organist; and Miss Dolores Beck, vocal soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Kriebel was attired in a white lace and satin gown styled with buttons down the front, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt ending in a train.

HER FINGERTIP length veil fell from a coronet of lace trimmed with seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of roses and lily of the valley with streamers.

Miss Dawn Flagler, East Greenville, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown styled like the bride's in dusty pink. Her heart-shaped bouquet consisted of pink roses and pompons. Completing her costume was a bonnet trimmed with lace and forget-me-nots.

Bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Schaeffer, Emmaus; and Mrs. Anna Ruth Hall, Hackettstown, N. J. They were mint green gowns with matching bonnets trimmed with lace and forget-me-nots.

Miss Margie Mack, Springtown, was the flower girl. She wore a white brocade gown styled with a V neckline and puffed sleeves. She carried a basket of American beauty roses and pompons and wore a matching headband.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was Mr. Duane Hall, Hackettstown, N. J., while ushers were Messrs. Leroy Reppert and Pierson Wheeler. Laurence Clevenstine, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

THE MOTHER of the bride, Mrs. Kriebel, was dressed in a beige dress trimmed in black velvet, with black accessories. The mother of the bridegroom chose a navy blue dress with matching accessories and both had corsages of white roses and lily of the valley.

A reception for friends and relatives was held following the ceremony in the American Legion pavilion, Hillside, in Palm. When the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip of one week to Virginia and other Southern states, Mrs. Wilson traveled in a beige dress trimmed in black velvet with black accessories and a corsage of white camelias and lily of the valley.

Upon their return the newlyweds will reside at 552 Main street, East Greenville, with Mrs. Wilson's parents.

Teamwork in Marriage Key to Couple's Success; Two Professionals Blend Knowledge of Same Art

BY FRANCES WROBEL
(Mercury Society Editor)

Spending all the 24 hours of a day with your spouse may sound like a moot undertaking. But to Mr. Oscar and Dr. Florence Sussel working side by side has brought about a greater compatability and an undefeatable teamwork in marriage.

Sharing a knowledge about the same art—dental fixtures—in their High street Laboratory-office, each follows a different trail which, after a stretch, merges with the other to form one road.

Dentist Dr. Florence Sussel is the plate specialist. She examines the patient, makes suggestions as to plates or bridges, takes measurements and turns the plate impressions over to hubby.

Mr. Sussel, dental technician, takes over behind his partition which separates the doctor's office from his workshop laboratory, and gets down to the highly skilled job of making dentures.

The joint venture has been highly successful. It's been going on since 1926, shortly after the couple was married. The tall, swarthy, technician declared, "We wouldn't be separated from working together."

* * *

HOWEVER, it was just a bit different some twenty odd years ago in Philadelphia. Then there wasn't any professional partnership. Both Mr. Sussel and the doctor each had an office.

That was a time when there were many obstacles in the path of women dentists, who were almost unheard of in the profession. The arched eyebrows of patients, for instance, who sauntered into an office displaying a sign Dr. F. M. Sussel, DDS, to be confronted by a woman.

The determined practitioner decided there was but one course to follow to abolish all disaproving glances. The ambiguous sign came down and in its place the bold gold letters of Dr. (Florence) Sussel, DDS, swayed forth, if not to improve the family fortunes, at least to make a stand for her ability.

The shingle remained out front for quite a while and gradually the rocky professional road became a macadamized highway as women attained their places in dentistry. And the office on Locust street attracted as many men patients as it did women.

ON THE NEXT parallel street, meanwhile, Mr. Sussel was taking dental X-rays for doctors throughout the city, including his wife. At that time, few general practitioners had their own X-ray units. One skill required the use of the other and the couple, although a walking distance apart, began their work together.

An exchange of ideas was shifted back and forth until the Sussels decided to scrap the distance between them and make it one special practice. New molds, waxes, scrappers and diagrams were added to the general equipment.

The couple then opened a laboratory and dental office combined, collabrated, and specialized in the dental plate line.

Snice that day 24 years ago amid jovial banter and serious analysis, they've been doing a complete job between them, from diagnosis to the finished denture product.

Time, was, however, when the comely titian haired dental student had not even the slightest knowledge of a fifth cousin overseas. Miss Florence Michaud, of Philadelphia, was avidly persuing studies at the Temple University School of Dentistry with two other young women and many serious young men. The three women comprised the sole representation of their sex in the School of Dentistry.

IT WAS because of an antique shop, indirectly, that the couple met. Oscar Sussel, after having served in the World War I, had just arrived in the United States from his home in Mossel Bay, Africa. The young man had spent most of his childhood in the British colony where his family had moved from Russia as the result of a political upheaval.

Oscar Sussel was a student at the Pennsylvania University School of Dentistry and alone in unfamiliar Philadelphia. Then quite by chance, one day he passed an antique shop bearing the family name, dropped in for a chat and found a distant relative.

From then on, introductions were made around the family circle and Florence Michaud and Oscar Sussel met and at first greeting, "fell in love at first sight."

Doing things together, whether at work or at play, has been the Sussels marriage-long plan to happiness and good fortune. Six years ago they put their yearnings into action and moved to the wide open spaces, or Pottstown RD 3. They have a 30-acre farm in that area where they both like to putter around. It's something of an amusement park now with a variety of whirling mechanism set up by Mr. Sussel.

"It was just the idea of doing something strenuous," he said, about erecting the amusements. The job was laborious but worth it and it's a lift to watch youngsters enjoying themselves, the pair contend.

The couple has one son, Lt. Malcolm Sussel, who is in the Army and currently stationed in Japan.

Besides sharing dentistry and the farm the Sussel's are both fond of traveling. Several years ago they took a trip to hubby's home town in Africa, and Mrs. Sussel's family met her husband's for the first time.

The beauty of the land is magnificent and the climate unsurpassable, she said about Africa, and both agreed they would like to make another visit again in the future.

Talking It Over Professionally

Dr. Florence Sussel, above, Pottstown's only woman dentist, adds a comment about the dentures her husband, Mr. Oscar Sussel, has just completed. The couple find working together as dental plate specialists is a stimplating part of their marriage, as well as a career for both.

They were accompanied on the piano by Mr. Frank Kurtz. Refreshments were served to over 50 members and guests by the hospitality committee.

Before frosting a cake be sure to brush the crumbs from the sides and top.

Wedding Dinner Given For Newly Wed Couple

A wedding dinner was given recently by Mr. and Mrs. Baker Gresh, of Pottstown RD 3, in honor of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gresh.

The couple were married Sept. 30, in the parsonage of the St. John's Lutheran church, Boyertown, by the Rev. David Longacre, pastor. The bride is the former Miss Anne Hish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buchak, Gilbertsville RD.

Those present at the turkey dinner were Mrs. Elizabeth Gresh, of Frederick; Mr. Harold Endy, Mr. Abraham Keller Jr., the Misses Mildred, Lenora, Esther and Ruth Ann Gresh; Mr. James Gresh, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Renninger and daughters Mary and Nancy Renninger.

For a delicious dressing for cabbage salad, slowly add a quarter cup of honey to two-thirds of a cup of vinegar and stir well. Pour in gradually a cup of thin cream and stir until mixture thickens. Season salad with salt and pepper.

When you are melting semi-sweet chocolate put it in a small round-bottomed bowl and set over hot, not boiling, water. If you set the chocolate over boiling water the steam may affect the cocoa butter in the chocolate and make it hard to get the melted chocolate smooth.

Beef, pork, and lamb liver are just as nutritious as calves' and much less expensive. When there are children in the family it is wise to use liver at least once a week.

Children need more milk every day than do adults because the calcium in milk helps build and keep their bones and teeth strong.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A NEW YORKER was driving through a barren wilderness in West Texas when a fancy bird skittled past the car. "What kind of fowl do you call that?" he asked. The driver answered proudly, "That's a bird of paradise." "Hm-m-m," mused the New Yorker, "Kind of far from home, isn't he?"

Gloria's parents thought her new boy friend was an unmannerly lout, but Gloria disagreed violently. "You're just prejudiced," she pouted. "George's manners are absolutely perfect. When he drives me home at night, he even slows up for me to get out."

A radio newscaster polled listeners on the most euphonious words in the language and came up with: melody, mimosa, lullaby, memory, mother, mellow, murmuring, moonbeam, and lanolin.

The Wall Street Journal reminds the newscasters that not one of these words has anything on: rare roast beef, full house, first nine in 37, or grand slam bid and made. Another soothing and soul-satisfying series of words is "enclosed find check."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Reading Attorney Addresses Woman's Club On Establishment of Joint School Districts

Members of the Woman's Club, meeting at the Boyer Towne inn, heard an address on the question, "Should Joint School Districts Be Established?" given by Attorney John Bradley, of Reading.

Bradley is a graduate of George Washington university and of Dickinson Law school. He served as a captain in the U.S. army in the Pacific theater during World War II.

Bradley, who is solicitor for the Birdsboro school district, said that 80 percent of the school districts in Pennsylvania are in financial straits; that the budget can be stabilized; that children can be given a better school system and better opportunities with joint school districts.

Mrs. Luther Schmoyer, program chairman, presented the legislation chairman, Mrs. Ralph Body, who in turn introduced Bradley.

Mrs. I. Ralph March, youth conservation chairman, introduced Miss Ruth Ann Erb, pianist, who played Schubert's "Impromptu."

Clark Schanely and Herbert Schmoyer were presented in their first public appearance as harmonica players and entertained with several selections.

Contract Awarded By Bally Firemen To Resurface Lot

At the meeting of the Bally Good Will Fire company, a contract was awarded to Charles G. Gabel, Boyertown, to macadamize the adjoining parking lot, also in front of the fire house and to construct a concrete block at the corner of the company building.

Gabel's bid of $2954 bettered those of two other bidders. Laurence Butler Jr., of Schwenkville, submitted a bid of $3000, while Herman S. Quigley, Bally, entered a proposal of $4152.

Over 1700 square yards of macadam are required for the parking lot, while another 600 square yards are required for in front of the fire house.

Fire Chief Harold Mutter reported there were no fires during the past month, and gave a talk on Fire Prevention Week. He asked the members, who worked at various industries, to make inspections of their plants. If any corrections were needed in preventing a possible fire, he suggested they call their superior's attention to the fact.

The president, Russell Witman, read the playground committee report for the year.

The trustees and officers were voted permission to remodel the kitchen of the grille room.

President Witman was in charge.

Golden Cubs, Downingtown Clash Here

Junior High's twice-beaten gridders enter their third bid for a victory this afternoon when they take on Downingtown Junior High in the first home game of the year on Franklin field at 2 o'clock.

The Golden Cubs, an entirely fresh batch of youngsters who just now are learning the ABC's of football, have lost to Phoenixville and Coatesville on successive outings. But the cry and hue at JHS this week is that "changes will be made."

Coach Gene Kauler has readjusted and streamlined his backfield along greyhound lines, abandoning hopes of attaining the power of the brilliant 1949 crew. The shift sends slippery and speedy Howard Bedell into the right halfback post and Carl Von Hohn to fullback replacing Bob Donnelly.

Bedell, in Kauler's words is "the fastest and best looking halfback prospect I've had for a long time."

And the blond youngster is but an eighth grader with another year of Junior High eligibility ahead of him.

* * *

THE CUB LINE makes no apologies. It is strong at ends where Tom Fiorillo, a defensive whiz, and Linwood Bieler hold forth; fair at tackles with Milt Wentzel and Bob Drumheller; and more than adequate at guards with Al Fisher and Joe Rettew manning the garrison.

Fisher is an inspirational leader in the forward section, grabbing off dozens of tackles each game and spearheading the clearance department.

At center is Frank Babel, the lone holdover from the 1949 team and one of the best junior high pivots around.

DOWNINGTOWN, beaten 19-0 last year, comes to town with a veteran unit and a vengeful one. It will be another case of the current Cubs taking the rap for the wreckage wrea'ed by their predecessors, but today they figure to do a little wrecking of their own.

Maxim vs. Charles?

SAN MATEO, Calif., Oct. 12 (AP)—Promoter William P. Kyne today offered $100,000 to world's heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles to defend his title against Joey Maxim, light heavyweight titleholder, in San Francisco on Washington's birthday.

Worker Nine Receives Championship Awards

UAW 644 baseball players to whose ears the tirades of raucous Manager Pop Meyers had become a regular thing heard the venerable baseball tactician spiel again last night in a much friendly vein when the union dined and honored the City-Industrial league champions at a banquet in the Orioles home.

Meyers, the principal speaker, captivated his ball club more thoroughly perhaps than he ever had on the field of play with his outspoken eloquence. He reminisced with the team over the season, thanked the union for its unlimited support and singled out several of his players for especial praise.

Meyers pointed to young Homer Royer, the team's "infant" as the boy who "pulled us through when we needed victories." Royer won four regular season games, then copped three of the Workers' six nods in their march to the Shaughnessy playoff title.

The white-thatched manager said that Gabe Fieni, an old-time UAW pitching ace, was the inspirational lead of the team whether he was pitching or merely coaching at first base.

Jackie Fout, George Misko, utility man Franny Wolfe, the league's most valuable player, and the Wayocks, Stan and George, were cited for particularly fine play along the road to the double title.

* * *

UAW HAD DONE what no other City league team ever had been able to accomplish. The Workers steamed through the regular season to finish atop the heap, then romped through the playoff finals in seven games where a possible ten could have been played.

And last night, the players received their rewards. The union, with Steve Lanzensky in charge, spread a delicious turkey feast for the players, provided other refreshments and presented them with fine jackets.

The team was commended highly by Bob Connor, UAW president, and Wilbur Wunder, a member of the union's recreation commission, which is headed by Lanzensky. Connor was toastmaster.

A HIGHLIGHT of the affair was the presenting of a championship trophy to Meyers by Carroll "Mush" Bechtel, through whose sporting goods establishment the award was donated. Bechtel added his congratulations to the team and praised the players as "outstanding and clean-cut personalities."

Honors and awards did not end there. Eugene Kauler, director of the Recreation commission-sponsored loop, presented to each man on the team gold baseballs, symbolic of their championship.

Kauler and league President Don Fillman, who spoke later, discussed the success of the circuit in terms of recreational benefit, but said that for the second straight season the league had been a financial failure.

Sanatoga Lists Stock Title Run

Stock car racing reaches a climax Sunday at Sanatoga Speedway when a record-breaking field is expected to clash in the 50-lap Eastern hard track stock car racing championship test.

The Sanatoga oval, a fifth-mile saucer with sharp, banked turns and short straightaways, is blacktopped and dangerously fast for drivers unschooled in its eccentricities.

That alone makes Sunday's race one of the potentially hottest of the campaign. In addition to veterans Blackie Reider, Monk Keller, Snakey Knappenberger, Smokey Dengler, Jimmy Ryan and Mose Moore, all standbys at Sanatoga, the field is expected to embrace many an "outsider" who will throw personal preservation to the winds in an all-out shot for top money.

Promoter Karl Spatz, in anticipation of a jammed crowd and some helter-skelter racing, has spent the entire week reinforcing restraining fences around the oval. He said that the track will be in its top shape for this top attraction.

The championship grind will climax a program of seven races including three heat runs, two semi-finals and a consolation final. First race gets away at 2 o'clock sharp.

Barbara Stagg Enrolls as Jr. At Ursinus Col.

One of the last and most colorful of the famous Stagg family, Barbara, granddaughter of the venerable Amos Alonzo Stagg, has enrolled at Ursinus college as a junior.

Barbara Stgg hit the headlines the past Spring when she won a position with the men's varsity tennis team at Susquehanna university. The bright-eyed blonde held her own with the best of competitors in small college circles.

Miss Stagg transferred to Ursinus in order to pursue studies in physical education, it was announced.

Her 88-year-old grandfather, one of the pioneers of football, developed championship teams at the University of Chicago and College of the Pacific after winning All-American honors at Yale in 1889. Currently, the elder Stagg is serving as advisory coach with his son, Amos Stagg Jr. at Susquehanna.

Miss Stagg has not decided whether she will be a candidate for Ursinus' men's or women's tennis team.

Yankees Rally Defeat '49ers

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—A 15-yard touchdown sprint by Buddy Young in the last five minutes of play gave the New York Yanks an uphill 29 to 24 victory over the San Francisco 49ers in a National Football League game at Yankee Stadium tonight.

The forward passing of George Ratterman also helped pull New York from behind in the final quarter after the Forty Miners apparently had the game won 24-16, on a sloppy field. Only 6000 braved rainy weather to see the game.

New York now leads the National Conference of the NFL with a 4-1 record. The Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions are tied for second with 3-1 record.

Right Halfback Candidates

—Mercury Sportsphoto

When Pottstown's Trojans mix with the favored Phoenixville Phantoms Saturday on Franklin field, one of the above carriers will be given the starting right halfback call. Carl Brown, left, currently is leading the race by dint of his speed and shiftiness afield. He has seen little action this year. At right is Earl Decker, stellar defensive end, who has been doing right half chores.

Phantoms Hold 21-10 Edge Over Trojans in Rivalry

Any incentive Pottstown's Trojans may need before Saturday's shove-for-all with Phoenixville at Franklin field can be easily furnished by a glance at the history of this white hot grid rivalry.

The teams have been banging each other around since 1905, and over the series, the Trojans have been able to win but ten times while suffering 21 setbacks and playing to six ties.

Of course, a fresher incentive can be found no farther back than a year ago when a good, big and surging Pottstown High team took on a down-and-nearly-out Phoenixville club, and lost, 7-0, in a stunning upset.

Several of the current Trojans suffered through that embarassment, not the least of whom was big, belting Sam Green, who never had been so thoroughly halted as in that game.

George Cisick and Harry Hausmann, this year's tackles, were subs then as were guards Herbie White and Willie Walton.

Earl Decker, Tom Pollick and Paul Duttenhofer all saw starting action in that game.

OVER THE YEARS, the Phoenixmen had one 15-game run during which they either won or held on for a tie ball game. That covered the 1929-1943 era, and over that period, the Trojans could score but three TDs, no two in a single game.

In 1944, the Trojans scored a 20-0 victory, their most decisive of the series. In 1946, it was Trojans, 13-0, and since that time the Phoenixville club has had everything its own way.

THE INTENSE rivalry between the neighboring cities has worked the populace into a lather over the impending clash, despite the fact that most selectors pick the visitors to score handily.

Phoenixville Coach John Hubicsak has held secret practices during the week, supposedly to prepare defenses for Pottstown's sputtering T-formation. Hubicsak has been heralded for his ability to key his teams for particular frays and to devise defenses for particular situations.

Pottstown practices have stressed, offensive work, particularly yesterday when the expected starting lineup was run through extensive signal drills.

At latest count, it appeared Carl Brown probably would get the right halfback call over Earl Decker and Bob Schlichter. Decker will play defensive end.

At left halfback, it will be big Walt Nixon, which situation gives the Trojans two fullbacks in the same backfield.

Patchwork Norco Team Girds For East Greenville Contest

The North Coventry football situation is not as bad as it seems—it's much worse.

Faced with the grim assignment of meeting a powerful East Greenville High team headon this Saturday, the Wildcats are probably in worst condition by way of manpower than they have been all year.

The Cats, with a short squad, licked Collegeville in their opener, then bowed on successive Saturdays to hot Royersford and Boyertown, both members of the Perkiomen-Schuylkill Valley league's Big Four.

In the latter loss, the charges of Coach Bill Paolantonio put up a scrap their staunchest backers thought impossible. Boyertown won, 27-12, only after a scare that lasted the better part of three quarters.

But the toll was heavy and Norco is left in the path of the Greenie juggernaut with depleted forces.

DEFINITELY OUT of the EG scrap is Tom Mauger, who was injured Saturday after Norco's other regular tackle, Gary Buckwalter, had been ejected from the game on the first play.

Buckwalter will be back for this one, but with Mauger out, the Cats must dig into an inexperienced stag line to tap Charles Layre, a powerful, but unpolished youngster who is making his first football bid at North Coventry.

Layre is expected to fill in nobly defensively, but his blocking is not up to par, simply because of his lack of experience.

As if that were not enough, regular end Bill Jones, a touchdown threat through the air lanes, left this week for Kansas City where he is participating in the annual Future Farmers of America convention.

Big Bill, a six-four lad with hamlike hands and ability to upset enemy asaults at his flank, is expected to fly back from Kansas City this weekend. But whether he will arrive in time for the game is not certain.

Even if he does turn up in time, his week layoff will not have helped his conditioning at all.

* * *

ASSISTANT COACHES Allen Brown and Lou Buckwalter said yesterday that the Cats' effective playing force was down to 15 men, but that the club would be in there "digging" all the way against the highly-favored Greenies.

"One thing is sure," said Brown, "we're not going to give them anything on foolish play."

The Cats figure to play this one cozy, stick to their single-wing ground game until they feel a pass play will work. They think the Greenie wall can be penetrated, records to the contrary notwithstanding.

* * *

THIS GAME could well make or break the Chester county team. Even if they go down, the Cats stand a good chance of sweeping through the latter part of their card if personnel gets back to a normal level and no injuries are sustained on Saturday.

Virtually beaten out of a shot at the Big Four crown, the swing-team Norco entry still is very much in the running for the lower half title in the Perk league.

The Cats have trimmed Collegeville and need wins over Schwenkville, West Pottsgrove and Pennsburg for their sweep.

Offensively, the Wildcats will rest their hopes principally on workhorse Franny Wampler and scamperback Lorrin Beidler again on Saturday. Wample, a plunge-pass-signal-calling handyman, has been the mainstay all year.

Beidler, tiny at 120 pounds, is a bearcat defensively and fast enough to be a threat anytime his line works him past the scrimmage section.

Ackler Seeks 2nd Mat Win

READING, Oct 12—Kenny Ackler, blond Californian who registered a major upset here two weeks ago when he pinned Danny McShain, west coast junior heavyweight champion, will be gunning for his second straight conquest Saturday night at the Armory.

Ackler's opponent in the one-fall-to-a-finish windup of Promoter Bert Bertolini's fourth wrestling show of the season in this city will be Leslie (Lord) Carlton, of Ipswich, England, one of grappledom's topflight performers.

As usual, Bertolini has arranged an attractive undercard which includes a best-of-three-falls Australian tag team match and a half-hour time limit exhibition. Bobby Ford, of California, and Kiman Kudo, of Honolulu, will provide the opposition for Jack Dillon, former Masked Phantom from Memphis, Tenn., and Tiny Mills, 265-pound Canadian, in the four-man free-for-all.

This Shine Isn't Worth a Dime

A shiny suit means it has been overworked . . . and so has your appearance.

Here's a tip. Several suits will keep you looking smart for a longer period than if you use but one steadily. Fabric is like your muscles . . . when it gets tired it needs to stretch . . . and it does.

Buy that extra suit now. You'll find that they'll wear longer and keep looking neater.

State Schoolboy Gridiron Leaders Face Acid Tests

HARRISBURG, Oct. 12 (AP)—Schoolboy football reaches the halfway mark in Pennsylvania this weekend with the most attractive card of the season.

Games between unbeaten contenders are on the slate in each section with many of the state's leading elevens meeting their big tests of the campaign.

Steelton's domination of the Central Penn conference is threatened when the Steamrollers' 200-pound line is put up against William Penn's fleet backs at Harrisburg. Steelton may be hamepered by only playing two games so far while Penn has won double that amount. There's a good chance of an upset but Steelton is another six-point pick.

The Johnstown area has two major undefeated teams—Conemaugh Township and Windber. Their battle this weekend will practically assure the winner of the regional supremacy as well as a top spot in the Western conference. Windber tied a good Altoona eleven, a WPIAL contender, but its opponent is given a slight edge.

Pottsville, leading the Eastern conference's Southern division, steps out to meet the Central Penn's unbeaten Lebanon. Here again one team has a little more potent power and the rod goes to Pottsville.

Swoyersville, unbeaten in three years, seeks to extend its streak at the expense of Taylor. The Sailors should be able and by at least 20 points.

Unbeaten Huntingdon has a chance to rectify the Western conference ratings that place it behind the Somerset Eagles although the Eagles lost to Huntingdon. Somerset plays non-league Scottdale while Huntingdon can pick up points by downing Bedford. Both are strong favorites.

Elsewhere they're picking:

Williamsport over Lancaster; John Harris over York; Coaldale over Hazle Township; Kulpmont over Minersville; Coal Township over Blythe Township; Shamokin over Hazleton; Phoenixville over Pottstown; Norristown over Chester; Easton over Scranton Tech; McKeesport over Johnstown.

Altoona over Latrobe; Plymouth over Wilkes-Barre Meyers; Allentown over Phillipsburg, N. J.; Bethlehem over Reading; Washington over Dormont.

NY, Dallas Week's Grid Capitals

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—The football capital of the country on Saturday will be either Dallas, Texas, or Yankee Stadium, New York, depending upon the viewpoint—probably prejudiced—of the individual football Filbert.

Those who feel that Dallas deserves the title have a talking point. Or, rather, two talking points. They are playing a day-night doubleheader down there on the same field, whereas there will be only a conservative single attraction at the local park.

Three of the teams involved in the Dallas colossal are ranked among the nation's top four in this week's Associated Press poll—Southern Methodist (2), Oklahoma (3) and Texas (4).

The Texas Longhorns, wildly heralded even before the season began, will attempt to shatter Oklahoma's winning streak of 23 straight in the big afternoon show, or matinee. Then, after a brief pause while the Cotton Bowl is emptied of spectators and incidental glassware, the gates will be thrown open for S.M.U.'s tussle with the Oklahoma Aggies.

AGAINST THIS vast assemblage of fans (estimated 130,000) and top 10 talent, the Yankee Stadium will offer only Army vs. Michigan, with no added attraction or door prizes. Army, No. 1 in the national standing, carries an unbeaten streak of 22 games into the contest. Michigan, dumped to No. 18 after its defeat by Michigan State, packs a burning determination to knock the Cadets off the top.

Between them, the three big games of the week should go a long way toward bring the college football picture into sharp focus at this early stage of the season. With Notre Dame apparently out of championship contention for the first time in many a year, the opportunity is ripe for a successor to make his play.

Except for the contests here and at Dallas, the week's schedule is somewhat bare of really important games from the national viewpoint, no matter how large some of them might loom sectionally. For instance:

Purdue, conqueror of Notre Dame in last week's stunner and now ranked No. 9, draws a breather against Miami (Fla.), Univ., at Bloomington, Ind.

Powerful Maryland, which jumped to No. 8 on the strength of its 34-7 walloping of Michigan State, plays one of East's lesser elevens in Georgetown, at Washington, D. C.

KENTUCKY, ranked No. 5 nationally after four straight high-score victories, entertains a Cincinnati team which appears to be going out of its class.

Stanford, highest rated of the West coast teams (No. 6) after last week's 21-0 conference win over Oregan State, plays host to a Santa Clara eleven which doesn't seem to have it this year.

The champion California Bears, No. 7, meet their old rival Southern California, beaten by Iowa and tied by Washington State, at Los Angeles.

Notre Dame, dropped unceremoniously to No. 10 when its luck finally played out, travels to New Orleans to play a Tulane team which was walloped by Alabama in its opener.

The latter, incidentally, might not prove a bad ball game. The Greenies have smarted from the unholy beating given them by the Irish early last season and can be counted upon to give it the old college try.

Good Gunning Seen as Duck Season Opens Today in Pa.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 12 (AP)—Shotguns underwent a final checkup tonight as Pennsylvania sportsmen got ready for the opening of duck season tomorrow at noon.

Becoming legal prey at the same time are wild geese and coots. The open season on woodcock and doves began last Tuesday.

The State game commission revised its forecast on waterfowl prospects this week when broods came through better than ever with the help of plentiful Summer rains.

The duck, goose and coot season runs through Nov. 21 with gunning hours after tomorrow's noon opening limited from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset. On Nov. 1, the opening of the small game season, shooting starts at 9 a. m., and is changed to 7 a. m., for the rest of the season.

Hunters over 16 years old must obtain a $2 "duck stamp" at local postoffices in addition to the Pennsylvania hunting license to qualify for waterfowl.
